

CHAUFFEUR HELD IN DEATH OF MAN STRUCK BY AUTO

Verdict of Homicide Returned in Killing of Engineer Knocked Down by Machine That Failed to Stop.

WITNESS SAYS CAR
SKIDDED 100 FEET

Driver Denies He Was Going
25 Miles an Hour and Says
He Believes Another Car Hit Victim.

Louis Lieberich, 32 years old, of 2013 Withnell avenue, a chauffeur, was ordered held for the grand jury following a coroner's verdict of homicide today in the case of Peter J. Boggiano, also known as Louis Daniels, 53, of 3647 Blaine avenue, chief engineer at the Frisco Building, who died at the Lafayette Hospital at 12:35 a. m. yesterday from injuries suffered at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, when knocked down by an automobile in front of Alhambra Grotto, formerly the Lido-Krans Club, at Grand and Magnolia avenues. The automobile which struck Boggiano did not stop.

Says Car Skidded 100 Feet. Charles M. Dawson, 519 Bates street, a salesman, testified that as he was walking north on Grand avenue, after leaving the Grotto, where a mask ball had been in progress, he heard a man cry and the grinding of automobile brakes. He said he saw an automobile northbound between the north and south street car tracks and that the automobile skidded about 100 feet before it stopped. He said that he heard no horns or other sound of warning.

Ernest C. Housman, 906 Elias avenue, testified that he was in an automobile driven by Lieberich and that the curtains were drawn. He observed Lieberich setting the brakes, he said, but was not aware that the automobile had struck anyone. He said that he did not believe the car skidded more than about 20 feet.

Driver Says Speed Was 10 Miles. Lieberich testified that he was driving at about 10 to 12 miles an hour and that he set his brakes when he heard a man cry. Just before that, he said, he had seen a man step into the street from the east side of Grand avenue, pass between two parked automobiles and start across the street. The street was slippery from rain, he said, and he did not set his brakes as tight as he could have set them for fear of skidding too much. He said that another automobile was going north at the same time and that the latter car did not stop. He said that he approached several men who were carrying Boggiano to the side, walk and that he gave his card to one of the men. He said that he did not believe his automobile struck Boggiano.

Harry A. Galosi, 4225 Page boulevard, a machinist, testified that Lieberich's car appeared to be going at about 25 miles an hour and that it skidded at least 100 feet after the brakes were set.

J. L. Boggiano of 4314 West Pine boulevard testified that his brother had been known as Louis Daniels for the past 25 years. The latter assumed the name of Daniels, he said, at the request of his wife, who did not like his real name.

Verdict of Accidents. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the death of Frank L. Johnson, 71, of 10 North Taylor avenue, who was struck at 8:10 a. m. Sunday by an automobile driven by Herbert M. Schwarz of 5696 Kingsbury place, at Taylor avenue and West Pine boulevard.

Testimony was that Schwarz was driving east on the south side of West Pine boulevard at a moderate rate and that he attempted to turn right when he saw Johnson crossing West Pine. Johnson became confused and stepped in front of the automobile. He was knocked down and Schwarz placed him in the automobile and took him to St. John's Hospital, where admission was refused because Johnson was dead when the automobile arrived.

SUIT AGAINST GARDNER MOTOR FIRM BASED ON TRADE SYMBOL

Delaware Corporation Charges Local Company Used a Similar Design to Its Work.

Suit was filed in the United States District Court here today by the Carhart Motor Co., a Delaware corporation, against the Gardner Motor Co., 9 Rutger street, for alleged fraud in the use of a symbol consisting of a red heart with a car in the center. The petition alleged that the Carhart company had spent $50,000 in advertising the symbol and that the Gardner Co. used a similar design in advertising its cars as a weekly publication. The plaintiffs allege they have been damaged to the extent of $5,000,000.

Officials of the Gardner Co. said they did not wish to make a statement until they have seen the petition.

DEBS IS ELIGIBLE FOR PAROLE IN 1922

President's Refusal to Free Him and Decision in Berger Case Draws Socialist Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Following the recommendation by the Department of Justice that the 10-year sentence of Eugene V. Debs, long a prominent Socialist leader, now in Atlanta prison, for violation of the war-time espionage laws, be commuted, effective Feb. 12 next, Lincoln's birthday, the rejection by President Wilson and refusal of commutation caused no surprise here. Mr. Wilson had previously refused to intervene in the case on the ground that Debs had sought to handicap the Government through opposition to the selective service act during the war, and that the granting of clemency in this case might induce similar tactics on the part of others in the event of another war.

The case was reviewed by a special board now taking up all convictions under the espionage act and its findings were endorsed by Attorney General Palmer. The findings are understood to have pointed out that Debs would be eligible for parole on Aug. 11, 1922, and that his sentence in case of good behavior would expire on Dec. 28, 1925. The recommendation is understood to have suggested that Debs had been adequately punished by his confinement since June 15, 1919.

Socialist Statement on Order for New Trial for Berger.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The Socialist party has issued a statement on the refusal of President Wilson to pardon Eugene V. Debs and the Supreme Court decision in the Berger case.

The Supreme Court, in ordering a new trial for Victor Z. Berger, J. Louis Engdahl, William F. Kruse, Adolph Germer and Irwin St. John Tucker, confirmed what the Socialist party has maintained since the trial, that the five Socialist officials were tried and convicted in an atmosphere of hysteria and prejudice that made a fair trial impossible.

"The Socialists asserted three years ago, when the men were indicted, and repeated two years ago, at the time of the trial, that the men were being punished, not for specific acts, but solely for their political work as members and officials of the Socialist party."

"In other words, the Socialists declare that the prosecution of the five men, together with the prosecution of Eugene V. Debs and other espionage cases, were political trials, and that the men are being punished for political opposition to the dominant political party and for no other offense."

The statement applauded the Supreme Court decision as far as it related to Judge Landis, and attacked the motives of that jurist. It then turned to the Debs case, asserting that President Wilson had refused to recognize the fact that the hysteria of the period is over and that savage punishment for political heresy is out of date.

"Political trials, political prisoners and punishment for political heresy are a thing of the past in this country, and this country will be a better place to live in when that chapter is closed," said the concluding sentence of the statement.

SOLDIER FROM ST. LOUIS SLAIN

Sgt. Rolla House Said to Have Been in Fight Over Woman.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—Sgt. Rolla House, said to be of St. Louis, member of the Twenty-second Infantry at Fort Niagara, whose mother, Alice House, resides in Butler County, Mo., was killed at Niagara Falls early this morning, following a fight with an unidentified foreigner, over a woman.

Holds City Has No Power to Examine Milk Books

The aldermanic committee has observed many of 80 of such dairies in St. Louis to be unclean.

One portion of Kerckhoff's testimony was an interesting contrast with the testimony of Kayser of the St. Louis Dairy Co. Kayser stated that his company lost money on re-sale milk, but made it up in whole-sale milk, ice cream and other by-products. Kerckhoff testified that the Pevely company does neither a whole-sale business nor ice cream business, and that it loses money on the butter and other by-products it makes from surplus milk.

Jersey Farm Dairy Business. Ottenard of the Jersey Farm Dairy testified that the annual business of his company was between $1,500,000 and $1,600,000. He said the original capitalization was $150,000, but that the present plant was worth about $325,000. He said that the company began to pay dividends in 1919. Also stated to him that he had information that the company's holdings increased from $180,000 to $314,000 between 1918 and 1919, and asked what portion of that represented capital, not profits. Ottenard replied that he did not know, and that the only company official who might have known recently had died.

Chairman August H. Niederluecke and Aldermen Stockhausen, Wells, Watts and Hirth of the Investigating Committee, accompanied Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan and Mrs. W. McKim Marriott, Mrs. Frank Y. Gladney and Mrs. M. G. Seelig, yesterday visited three dairies in St. Louis and Franklin counties, at which certified milk is produced for distribution here.

Certified dairies are dairies which have been inspected by the St. Louis Milk Commission, an organization of physicians, for cleanliness and sanitation of production methods, and given permission to sell milk under the commission's certificate. The retail price is 25 cents a quart. This milk is not pasteurized, but is required to contain no more than 10,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter.

According to Dr. Jordan, this provision not being rigidly enforced at this time. He exhibited bacteria counts on certified milk, which exceeded 100,000 bacteria. Certified milk is for infant consumption largely. It is distributed by milk and cream companies. The dairies visited had clean, large, airy and light barns and the methods seemed modern.

Sugar Export Tax Discontinued. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Government of Guatemala has discontinued its export tax on sugar, according to an announcement here by the Guatemalan legation.

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA PROCEEDS TODAY GO TO HOOPER FUND

St. Louis Club Chosen for $100-a-Cover "Invisible Guest"

The entire day's proceeds of all the cafeterias operated by the Young Women's Christian Association in St. Louis today will be donated to the fund for the starving children of Central and Eastern Europe. The National Y. W. C. A. is one of the eight organizations of the United States forming the European Relief Council, and all branches of the association in America have set today as the time for the "invisible guest" day in the lunchrooms and cafes.

There are six cafeterias in St. Louis under the Y. W. C. A. management. The St. Louis Club has been chosen for the $100-a-cover "invisible guest" dinner Feb. 8, it was announced this morning at the headquarters of the St. Louis committee of the Relief Council. The food to be served will cost less than $1, and the remainder of the $100 each guest will pay will go to the fund to be used in feeding the starving children of Europe.

Herbert Hoover, national chairman of the European Relief Council, will be present and will occupy the place of honor beside the "invisible guest" chair. This chair in St. Louis, as in New York last month, when the visible guests paid $1000 each for their dinner, will be a baby's high-chair and will contain a lighted candle.

DECEMBER INCOME AND PROFITS TAXES FELL OFF $246,000,000

Collections for First Half of Fiscal Year Exceeded by More Than $410,000,000 Over Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Income and excess profits taxes collected by the Government in December fell off by more than $246,000,000 as compared with December, 1919, and for the first half of the fiscal year collections of these taxes declined by more than $410,000,000 as against the corresponding period of the previous year, according to figures made public by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Collections for December amounted to $660,512,510, against $926,678,429 in December, 1919, while for the six months ending with December, the total was $1,583,383,516, compared with $1,994,123,836 collected during the same months of 1919.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL CARRIES ABOUT $395,000,000

Committee Believes That Amount Would Necessitate Reduction in Personnel to 100,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The naval appropriation bill, which probably will be reported to the House tomorrow, carries approximately $395,000,000, a reduction of about $33,000,000 from the amount appropriated a year ago and $284,000,000 less than departmental estimates. An appropriation of $395,000,000, in the opinion of members of the appropriations subcommittee that framed the bill, would necessitate a reduction of the navy's enlisted personnel from a present possible maximum of 143,000 to a maximum of 100,000, but would permit a continuation of the navy's building program at the same rate as during the current fiscal year.

LAST PUBLIC HEARING FOR WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILLS

Eight Persons Will Be Heard on Measures of Jefferson City Thursday Night.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 1.—Chairman Turbett of the House Committee on Workmen's Compensation, has served notice that the public hearing Thursday night, at which eight persons will be permitted to speak on the four bills on that subject now in the hands of the committee, will be the last hearing on the bills, after which a bill will be reported out by the committee.

CHINESE FOUND IN ROOM UNCONSCIOUS FROM BEATING

Secretary of Tong Seriously Injured With Billiard Cue
by White Man Who, He Says, Demanded Money.

Leong Tong Hoo, 32 years old, secretary of the On Leong Tong, a Chinese mercantile association, who was found unconscious and bleeding profusely from wounds on the head at 3:30 o'clock this morning in his room in the rear of 718A Market street, regained consciousness at City Hospital No. 2 shortly before noon and stated that he had been attacked by a white man who demanded his money and then beat him on the head with the butt end of a billiard cue. He is in a critical condition from possible fracture of the skull.

Leong told his nephew, Leong Chow, that a white man, whom he had often seen in the neighborhood, broke the door of his room this morning and demanded money.

"No money," Leong replied. Then the robber fastened the door from within and began beating the Chinese with the club, until he fell unconscious.

The shrieks of the Chinese for help aroused the neighborhood, and soon Hop Alley, to which the back door of room leads, swarmed with Chinese who hastened to his assistance. But the assailant had fled before any of the Chinese reached Leong's room.

Leong, who does not speak English, gave a description of his assailant to the police through his nephew.

The nephew stated that his uncle had often had considerable sums of money belonging to the association in his possession, and was generally regarded as prosperous.

County Gamblers' 30 Days of Grace Ends at Midnight

Sheriff Willmann Says All Games of Chance Must Stop and Mentions Particularly Foley and Gumberts.

Sheriff John F. Willmann of St. Louis County said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that a 30-day period of grace, which he gave to county gamblers when he took office, would end at midnight, and that all gambling would have to stop at that time.

The Sheriff mentioned particularly Tony Foley, former proprietor of Campbell's Forest Home, in Richmond Heights, who has been reported recently as running a game in Weistown, and Mark Gumberts, veteran manager of games of chance, and experienced political opportunist. Gumberts is said to have been operating in the Suburban Garden locality of late.

"When they see the evidence I have," the Sheriff said, referring to Foley, Gumberts and others, "I think they will be glad to get out of the county."

Willmann took office Jan. 1. On his first business day in office, Jan. 2, he announced to reporters that he did not intend to tolerate gambling in St. Louis County, but that he felt that he should have a short time to become familiar with the work of his office. He asked that the newspapers should not "ride" him about the matter of gambling for the next 30 days, and said that, at the end of that time, he would put an end to any gambling enterprises that might be in existence.

He said he had notified Foley and Gumberts to come to his office, and that he would tell them they must cease operations in 30 days. The end of that period, beginning Jan. 2, comes tonight.

"The Sheriff said today that Foley and Gumberts visited him at his home, in response to his request, and that he delivered his notification to them. He said he did not wish to give them any chance to say that they had been harshly or summarily dealt with."

He did not wait for the end of his 30-day period to get evidence, he said. It appears to be his plan to use this evidence, without waiting to get new evidence, if the gamblers continue to operate.

EIGHT CHILD WELFARE BILLS ACTED ON AT JEFFERSON CITY

Measure to Increase Women's Age of Majority to 21 Among Those Reported Out.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 1.—Eight children's code bills, on which a hearing was had yesterday before the House committee and last night before the Senate committee, were reported out favorably today, by Chairman Razovsky of the House committee. The Senate committee did not act on the bills last night, their hearing having lasted until 11:30 o'clock.

The eight bills reported out by the House committee were those requiring the treatment of the eyes of new-born infants with prophylactics; providing for establishment of a bureau for examination and classification and supervision of mentally defective persons, requiring the mandatory commitment of dependent, delinquent, immoral or feeble-minded persons after hearing before competent examiners and the courts; making a misdemeanor the solemnizing of a marriage between mentally defective persons, and establishing certain classes in public schools for mentally defective children; increasing the age of majority for women to 21 years; requiring five days' notice to be given before issuance of a marriage license; establishing a home for abandoned, neglected or mistreated children, and appropriating $50,000 for it.

DEPARTMENT ESTIMATES CUT BY HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS BODY

First Big Deficiency Bill Carries $203,293,476—$478,726,786.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Hedupulous department estimates by the House Appropriations Committee in framing the first big deficiency bill for this year, and said that, as reported today to the House, carried a total of $203,293,476 compared with estimates of $478,726,786.

Approximately $192,000,000 of the appropriation is for deficiencies in the army, navy, postoffice and treasury departments. One million dollars authorized for the work of enforcing prohibition, $400,000 less than asked. The Bureau of Internal Revenue also was given $8,000,000 for collection of income and excess profits taxes.

State Bank Examiner Appointed. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 1.—Rank Commissioner Hughes today appointed Sam W. Dye of Oregon cashier of the Farmers and Miners' Bank of Oregon, a bank examiner for four years at $2000 a year.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION QUESTIONNAIRES READY

Detailed Reports to Be Used by Citizens or Organizations Sponsoring Candidates.

The questionnaire on prospective candidates for the Board of Education at the spring election that are to be suggested to the League of Women Voters for the compilation of their qualifications was perfected and finally approved this afternoon by Mrs. Waldo Layman, who had charge of this work.

The questionnaire is a detailed report to be used by citizens or organizations sponsoring candidates for election to the School Board, and the form adopted by the league is as follows:

1. Age and place of birth?
2. Length of residence in St. Louis?
3. Educational opportunities?
4. Business, professional or political history?
5. Organization affiliations?
6. What qualifications recommend your candidate for the School Board?
7. Will this candidate vote only for a superintendent whose technical advice he can accept?
8. Does the candidate realize that the advice of a technical expert should receive serious consideration and support of the board?
9. What evidence of interest in educational matters has the candidate manifested?

The questionnaires may be submitted by individuals or by organizations established for a year or more and must bear 200 names of indorsers. They must be filed with affidavits beginning Feb. 8 and not later than 6 p. m. Feb. 10.

From the candidates this projected the five that will be supported by the League of Women Voters will be chosen.

The questionnaire also must show that the prospective candidate has been a resident of St. Louis for three years, a taxpayer to the city for the last three years and that he is not and will not be interested in anyway in any contract with the Board of Education.

Supreme Court Recesses.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Supreme Court recessed yesterday until Feb. 28, without having acted upon several important cases, which it had been expected to decide. The undecided cases included the appeal of Senator Truman Newberry from conviction under the corrupt act; Lever act cases and suits to test the validity of the child labor section of the 1919 revenue act and of the farm loan act.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Worked Wonders

No wife needed a treatment of Dr. Burkhardt's "Vegetable Compound." Pay her case of liver, stomach, trouble and a thousand ailments to you—William Allen, Baltimore, Md.

"Don't let another day pass. Write Dr. Burkhardt for a treatment of Dr. Burkhardt's 'Vegetable Compound.' Pay when you get it. All druggists. 30 days' treatment. 15c and 30c."

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU WASH YOUR HAIR WITH
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

The Joy Of A Perfect Skin
Know the joy and happiness that comes to one thru possessing a skin of purity and beauty. The soft, distinguished appearance it renders brings out your natural beauty to its fullest. In use over 70 years.

KINGDON GOULD SUED BY WOMAN FOR $500,000

She Alleges He Hired Detectives to Gather Evidence on Which She Obtained Divorce.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Existence of a $500,000 suit in which Kingdon Gould, youngest son of George Jay Gould, is charged with breach of promise to marry Mrs. Richard Blum of Arkville, N. Y., was disclosed today in a report of supplementary proceedings begun yesterday in the Supreme Court here. Gould appeared in court yesterday and denied statements made by Mrs. Blum, who asserted he employed detectives to gather evidence on which she obtained a divorce in June, 1917. They previously had agreed, she said, to marry when she was free and were on friendly terms until his marriage to Miss Anna Ziata Lucet in July, 1917. She further charged that he offered $10,000 to settle the case after the suit was filed several months ago, and that she refused. The Court directed both sides to submit all papers in the case next Saturday.

RULES AS TO LIQUOR IN WAREHOUSES ABOUT READY

Bureau of Internal Revenue to Announce Soon Regulations of Whisky in Commercial Storage Rooms.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Regulations covering the transportation of lawfully acquired liquor from storage in commercial warehouses to owners' homes have been practically completed. Bureau of Internal Revenue officials say. They will probably be announced within a few days. The bureau has been at work on the regulations since the Supreme Court decided early in November that the transportation of lawfully acquired liquor from commercial warehouses to the home of the owner is not prohibited by the Volstead act. Of the 44,000,000 gallons of liquor stored in warehouses before national prohibition, only about 2,500,000 gallons will be affected by the regulations, officials declared, as of the total amount of lawfully acquired liquor remaining in storage, about 42,000,000 gallons is in bonded warehouses and its status was not disturbed by the decision.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm. It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

A Constant Par Cash Market for Union Electric Preferred Makes This Safe Home 7% Dividend-Payer an Excellent Investment for Your Savings

Millions of men and women who bought war bonds at par, sold them later at a loss. Other hundreds of thousands during the same years have had to sell other securities for less than their cost. Since December, 1919, no owner of Union Electric 7% preferred stock who bought the shares from the Company has had to sell them for a penny less than their full par value.

Some of our shareholders have sold their stock at a loss, trading for other securities and dealing with other people, but they were not obliged to do it. If they had brought or sent their shares to our SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, Room 201 Union Electric Bldg., 12th and Locust Streets, St. Louis, we would have re-sold them within a few days at par for cash, and without charging a penny for the service.

During the past fourteen months our Securities Department has sold over $1,000,000 of Union Electric 7% preferred, at $100 a share for cash or $102 on a ten-payment plan, to new investors. During the same period we have re-sold, for our stockholders who had need to get their money, over $700,000 worth of the preferred outstanding. ALL OF THESE RE-SALES WERE MADE AT PAR FOR CASH. WE FOUND MORE THAN TWO BUYERS FOR EVERY SELLER. NO SELLER HAD TO WAIT MORE THAN A FEW DAYS. RE-SALES USUALLY WERE MADE WITHIN THIRTY-SIX HOURS. THE COMPANY CHARGED NOTHING FOR ITS SERVICE TO THOSE WHO BOUGHT SHARES FROM THE COMPANY. THE YEARLY COST OF THE $1,000,000 OF NEW CAPITAL GOT IN THIS WAY HERE AT HOME DURING 1920—INCLUDING THE COST OF THE RE-SALES—IS ONLY 7.75%. ACTUAL EXPERIENCE, DURING A YEAR AS HARD AS ANY WE ARE LIKELY EVER TO SEE, PROVED WE COULD MAINTAIN A PAR CASH MARKET FOR THESE SHARES, AND WE SEE NO REASON TO DOUBT THAT WE SHALL BE ABLE TO DO IT HEREAFTER.

Six to seven years ago SIX PER CENT preferred stocks not so good as Union Electric preferred sold at $18 to $20 per share above par. Some shrewd financiers believe that condition will repeat itself within the next six to seven years. When it does, Union Electric 7% preferred will be right up among the leaders. It is because of this possibility that the Company, selling these shares at $100, reserves the right to buy them back, at its option, at $105.

You can buy these shares at our SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, or at Union Electric's offices in St. Louis, St. Charles, Franklin, Jefferson and Perry counties. MAIL ORDERS FILLED PROMPTLY BY REGISTERED LETTER. The price is $100 per share for cash, $102 on a ten-payment plan, under which buyers pay $10.20 a month for ten months on each share, draw 5% interest on their payment, and can withdraw all payments, WITH INTEREST, any time before the last installment is due. If it is not convenient for you to visit one of our offices, mail or telephone us your name and address and we will send a salesman, or a circular, as you prefer, to explain this offer in detail.

Prices Crash Don't Be Deceived

Remember, this is no 20 per cent or 1/2 off from the usual marked-up installment or long-time prices. Our business has been on a strictly cash basis, one price to all. Every old ticket is the regular price, every new red ticket you will see is a radical reduction from our unusual low cash price. PLEASE HAVE THESE FACTS IN MIND. No attention has been paid to costs or percentages. We know we are to take a loss here—for the market is "Hay-wire." Many merchants right here in St. Louis will try to camouflage that it doesn't mean that you are to buy cheaper. Just give 'em the broad grin—come here—we will prove to you, to the satisfaction of your pocketbook, that we have reduced prices at this store during this sale. We realize that our first loss is our best loss and will abide by our pricing. Every article in our store greatly reduced.

BREWERY WORKERS YIELD TO EMPLOYERS

New Working Agreement for Two Weeks Cedes Right of Control Over Men.

R. A. Huber, a vice president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., following a conference between the Labor Committee of the seven brewing companies manufacturing near beer and representatives of the five unions of brewery workers, announced this morning that the unions had agreed to tentatively accept the new working contract which became effective today, and which provides that henceforth the employers are to control the hiring, dismissal and laying off of employees.

"The unions have agreed to work under the terms of the new contract for the next two weeks. The representatives of the unions wanted to accept the contract under protest, but the employers would not agree to that course, fearing that a strike might be called suddenly in the busy period when warm weather sets in."

An effort was made to obtain a statement from union officials, but they could not be reached at their offices this morning.

As has been told, the employers, in their new contracts, while agreeing to continue until Oct. 31, 1922, the present scale of wages, working hours and recognition of all other union regulations, reserved the right to control the division of work. For 29 years the organized brewery employees had been working under contracts which provided that the hiring, discharging and laying off of union employees should be under the supervision of the unions. The present contracts had until April to run, but were abrogated by the new contracts.

When the new contracts were proposed, the union employees, numbering approximately 2000, voted to reject them, and also voted to strike if the employers attempted to carry out the terms of the new contracts.

WHISKY FOUND IN SALOON

Oscar O. Lindberg, 50 years old, proprietor of a saloon at 1631 Clark avenue, his son, Emanuel, 23 years old, and a negro woman, cook in the place, were arrested yesterday when Police Sergeant Pickett and two patrolmen in searching the place found a quart of whisky hidden under a mechanical piano, two quarts in a rear room between the boards of two tables, one of which was inverted to rest on the other, and a half pint on a shelf behind the bar. Lindberg said he was not aware of the presence of whisky in the saloon. The son said the same thing. So did the negro; so all were held.

LEE CHILDREN LEAD ON ORPHEUM PROGRAM

Harry Langdon as Funny as Ever in "Johnny and His New Car."

Jane and Katherine Lee, those remarkable children who have amused millions on the movie screen, are the prime attraction on this week's bill at the Orpheum. The maturity of their art is surprising—the more so as they seem utterly unspoiled. Their remarkable elocutionary powers and their singing voices are a revelation to those who have seen them only in the silent drama. Such emotional versatility and adaptability could have been acquired nowhere else than in the realm of screenedom. Their little death scene brought tears to the eyes of hardened first-afternooners.

Another sure-fire entertainer is Harry Langdon in his quaintly humorous sketch entitled "Johnny's New Car." For the current offering he has brought it up to date with new "business," while retaining all of the salient features which have kept him in public favor for several seasons.

Leo Heers plays the piano and sings "Smart" jingles set to music. There is a tinge of suggestiveness here, and the same may be said of Gertrude Vanderbilt, who seems to go out of her way to show that the characters whom she portrays are as loose-jointed morally as they are physically. These are jarring notes in a program which because of the appearance of the Lee sisters is sure to draw an unusual quota of children.

The Brants open the bill with a remarkable knockout act, Jessie Brown and Effie Weston are dancers of fair attainments. Merlin is a good card trickster and Roode and France are slack-wire performers.

STARK BROTHERS LOSE SUIT OVER NURSERY TRADEMARK

One of Three Sons of Founder Withdraw and Formed a Rival Company.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Stark Brothers Nurseries Co., of Louisiana, Mo., lost its suit in the Supreme Court today for damages against the William P. Stark Nurseries of Stark City, Mo., an alleged infringement of a trademark in which the common name of the two concerns formed an important element was involved in the suit.

William Stark, founder of the family nursery, died in 1880, leaving the business to his three sons, of whom William P. was the youngest. Under their management the establishment expanded rapidly until in 1909 it was capitalized at $1,000,000. About this time the younger brother withdrew and formed the rival company. For a time he operated it in the same town, but later moved it to Chester, which later was renamed Stark City.

The new nursery, it was alleged, took up the use of the registered trademark and in other ways offered "unfair competition." In a previous suit the Stark Brothers Co. obtained an injunction restraining the competing firm from using the family name for a trademark.

COKE

IT'S easy to keep the house comfortable when you burn coke. It kindles quickly, warms the house rapidly, is easy to handle and gives a clean, smokeless, sootless fire. Coke is equally suitable for hot water, steam and hot air furnaces.

The Fuel for Changeable Weather

Because a coke fire is so instantly responsive, it is the ideal fuel for changeable weather. It will give either a quick, penetrating heat or a slow, genial warmth, depending on the way you handle the drafts.

Let our demonstrator show you how to burn coke to get the best results. Call Main 83 for an appointment.

BERLIN ANNOUNCES APOLOGY BY GEN. ALLEN

U. S. Commander Said to Have Declared Attempt to Seize Bergdoll Was Unauthorized.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Brigadier-General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine, has made a formal apology to both the Berlin Government and the Government of Baden for the recent attempt by men connected with the American forces to take into custody Grover Bergdoll, American draft evader, and his chauffeur, Isaac Stecher, says an official statement issued by the German Government today.
The statement says that Col. Stone, acting on orders from Gen. Allen, called on the Imperial Commission for the occupied Rhine area and declared Gen. Allen desired to make a formal apology to the Imperial German and Baden governments for the attempt to arrest Bergdoll on Baden territory.
Through his official representative, the communication states, Gen. Allen declared he had given no orders for the attempt against Bergdoll, which he greatly deplored.
The order for Bergdoll's arrest, Allen stated, was issued by the provost marshal in Coblenz, who only recently arrived in Germany and who was under the impression that Bergdoll was sojourning in the French zone of the occupied area.

12 Days in State of Coma.
By the Associated Press.
PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 1.—George A. Rawson of Seattle, clubman, is today in the twelfth day of a state of coma. His condition followed a friendly boxing bout here. After a consultation of physicians, yesterday, it was decided not to operate. A concussion and hemorrhage of the brain were declared to be the cause of his condition.

Mother! look at Child's tongue

Give "California Syrup of Figs" only—Say "California"

Hurry, mother! A teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If your child is constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has a cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good "physio-laxative" is often all that is necessary.
Children dearly love the delicious, "fruity" taste of genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits. Mother, you must say "California." If you don't say "California" you may get an imitation fig syrup.

MELO-DEE

Music Rolls

"THE WORLD'S FINEST MUSIC ROLLS"

Go into almost any first-class music store and notice the music rolls the salesmen are using to demonstrate player-pianos. In the great majority of cases you will find they are Mel-O-Dee Music Rolls.

These men know by actual experience the superiority of the Mel-O-Dee Roll — know that by using it, the player-piano they want to sell is demonstrated to the best advantage.

Mel-O-Dee Music Rolls are the finest music rolls made

You chose your player-piano carefully — probably compared it with several others before you bought. Do the same with your music rolls, for the music roll you use very largely affects the results you get with your instrument.

Every song, every dance, every piece worth hearing is arranged for Mel-O-Dee, even before it becomes popular. The best performers in the country play these for Mel-O-Dee; the oldest and best equipped music roll factory in the world turns them out.

Go to your dealer and buy one or more of the rolls here listed. Compare them with the rolls you have been using. You will quickly learn why Mel-O-Dee Rolls are preferred for demonstrating player-pianos, and why they are today everywhere recognized as the "World's Finest Music Rolls."

BURGLAR, ROUTED, LOSES WATCH CHARM

Bareheaded Man Flees After Throwing Hatchet at Photographer.

A bareheaded burglar who entered Earl Van Houten's photographic studio, 3548 Olive street, yesterday afternoon, left more than he carried away. Van Houten reported to the police that at 3 p. m. he was carrying a bucket of coal up an outside stairway when a bareheaded man with scratches on his face came out of the rear door of the studio at the top of the stairs. The stranger flourished a hatchet and commanded Van Houten to throw up his hands. Van Houten dropped the coal bucket and fled. The hatchet whizzed past his head.

After calling policemen and returning to the studio Van Houten found there a gold watch charm bearing the initials "C. M. R." The front door of the studio had been forced open. Nothing was stolen.

A few minutes later policemen were called to the Rialto Hotel at 3550 Olive street, next door to Van Houten's studio. Mrs. Paul Hill, proprietress of the hotel and a bareheaded man with scratches on his face had tried to force his way in and when she refused to admit him he broke a pane of glass in the door with his elbow. No further trace of him was found.

$510 in Jewelry Stolen.
Abraham Freedman of 4646 Page boulevard reported that at 7:15 p. m. two men waylaid him in an alley near his home. One pointed an automatic pistol at him and the other searched him and took jewelry which he valued at $510.

valued at $510.

Fredrick C. Parson of 4480 Marquette avenue reported that at 1:40 p. m. two men who drove in a Dodge automobile held him up near his home, took $87 from him and escaped in the machine.

Michael Palskos of 504 South Broadway was found intoxicated at Twelfth and Walnut streets yesterday afternoon. After spending several hours in the inebriate ward he was released with a $550, which he said he had put in a handkerchief and tied around his right leg. He remembered nothing that happened after he went to a saloon near Seventh and Market streets.

Delivery Truck Robbed.
Two suits of clothes valued at $100 each were stolen from a parcel delivery truck while the driver, Edward G. Rudolph, was making a delivery near Bejt and Waterman avenues yesterday afternoon.

Henry H. Schulze of 4563 Wichita avenue reported that a purse containing $5.40 and a lock of yellow hair was stolen from his pocket as he was boarding a Manchester car at Spring and Chouteau avenues yesterday afternoon. He told the police the attached great sentimental value to the lock of hair.

Thieves last night or early this morning knocked combination knobs on safes in the offices of the Robert Friend Commission Co., 827 North Fourth street, and the Stedeman Bros. Commission Co., 823 North Fourth street. They did not open the inner doors of the safe and their loot amounted to only 50 cents taken from the Friend Commission Co. cash register.

Travelling Bag Stolen.
J. B. Chambers of 5787 Waterman avenue reported that while he was in a room at the Belcher Hotel, Fourth street and Lucas avenue, yesterday, someone stole his travelling bag, containing clothing valued at Jewelry and small amounts of cash were stolen by burglars at the homes of Jacob Schank, 3933 Pennsylvania avenue; Edward Engel, 1609 North seventeenth street, and Walter D. Robinson, 5787 Waterman avenue.

Four on Wreck Train Killed.
NEWARK, O., Feb. 1.—Four members of a Pennsylvania Railroad wrecking crew, all from Columbus, were killed early this morning while returning to Columbus when their wreck train was hit by a freight train three miles east of Newark. Several were injured, two seriously. The crew had just cleared up a freight wreck.

WALKER EXPLAINS HAPPENINGS THAT LED TO ARREST

Former Deputy Sheriff, Charged With Participation
in Robbery of Mrs. Catherine Letto, Makes Statement.

Robert Walker, former Deputy Sheriff, today gave a Post-Dispatch reporter an explanation of the circumstances which led to the issue yesterday of a warrant charging him with the theft of $3466 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Catherine Letto, 32 years old, of 219 Catalpa avenue, Webster Groves.

Mrs. Letto told the police a remarkable story of having been accused near her home on the night of Dec. 28 by two men, who lifted her and her son, Earl, 8 years old,
into a limousine driven by a third man, and drove around in St. Louis County for two hours, while they systematically searched her, taking $149 and about $500 worth of jewelry.

Harry Anastas, a saloon keeper of 601 Market street, and a friend of Mrs. Letto, caused the arrest of Walker Saturday, at Walker's poster advertising establishment, 203 North Fourteenth street. Anastas told Prosecuting Attorney Fred Mueller of St. Louis County, that Walker had called him on the telephone, and later called at his saloon, offering to obtain the return of the jewelry for $2000. As told in late editions of yesterday's Post-Dispatch Anastas filed an affidavit before Justice of the Peace Werremeyer, specifically charging Walker with the theft, and the warrant was issued, as is mandatory in such cases.

Denies Knowing Mrs. Letto.
"I had never heard of Mrs. Letto until I read of the robbery," Walker told a reporter today. "I have known Harry Anastas for eight years. About two weeks ago a man called me on the telephone, and said he understood I was a friend of An-astas. I said that was right.

"I hear he made the remark that he would give $2000 to get Mrs.
Letto's jewelry back," the fellow said.
"You tell him he can get it back for that," I asked the man his name,
but he said it didn't make any difference, that I didn't know him. I told him I would tell Anastas what he said.

"I called Harry on the telephone and told him. He said he wouldn't pay it. I gave her the stuff, all right, but she lost it, and she up to her to get it back. I wouldn't spend $200 to get it," he said. I said all right, I would tell the fellow that if he called me up again.

"He did call me up three or four days later," the fellow said. "An-astas told me that 'jewelry' he asked me about that 'jewelry'?" I said, "It's the same man that talked to you the other day," he told me.

"Won't you give me your name?"
I asked, and he said he wouldn't,
that his name didn't make any difference. I said to him: "Well, I told Harry what you said, and he told me
he wouldn't give $200 for the stuff."
The fellow says, "All right," and hung up the receiver.

"That's absolutely all I had to do with it. My idea simply was to do a favor for a friend. I didn't know the fellow that called up, and I didn't have anything to do with the robbery. Last Saturday the police arrested me. I begged them to let me face Mrs. Letto, to see if she could identify me as one of the robbers, but they wouldn't do it.

"They took me out to Clayton and kept me there till 5 o'clock, before I got a common law bond for $1000.
G. Van, a broker, of 6183 Pershing avenue, Jan. 7, was recovered several days ago from Walker, who said he had bought it from Henry Walde-meyer, one of the men under indictment for the robbery.

Walker also explained that incident today. He said he was shaking dice about three weeks ago at a saloon at Seventh and Chestnut avenue, when Waldmeyer, who also was playing, asked to borrow $100, and offered the ring as security. Later he offered to sell it outright for $250.
Walker said he took it to a jeweler
the following Monday, to have it weighed and appraised. The jeweler, he said, told him that it had a market value of $225, so he gave Walde-meyer $250 for it. He asked Walde-meyer where he got the ring, he said, and Waldmeyer said his father gave it to him.

Walker served four years as Deputy Sheriff under Sheriff Wolbrun.

Vocalion Records
for February

A WONDERFUL tone-picture has Maurice Dambois, the gifted Belgian 'Cellist, made of his new Vocalion Record of Saint-Saens' "The Swan."

A TOUCH of that divine art that alone is Rosa Raisa's, world-famed dramatic soprano of the Chicago Opera Association, is imparted to her latest Vocalion recording of Verdi's "Vespre Siciliani" aria.

THE sinister dignity of the "Credo" from
"Otello" is made vividly real by Giacomo
Rimini, noted operatic baritone.

EVELYN SCOTNEY, coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, gives a brilliant interpretation of the favorite
"Ah, fors e lui" from Traviata.

MISS AILEEN STANLEY, the clever comedienne, contributes two snappy song hits.

HIGH-LIGHTS in the popular tunes are both song and dance records of that tantalizing tune, "Margie," "Snap Your Fingers at Care," "Beautiful Annabel Lee," and "Broadway Rose."

"The Swan"
The illusion is complete. Rippling notes of the piano introduction suggest a placid, mirrored lake outlined by the green softness of trees.
From its dim shadows the suave smoothness of the cello invokes the vision of the graceful swan—pride and dignity in every snowy curve.
The gliding theme continues as the shiny lily-pads are gently ruffled by the bird's smooth progress. The sun is slowly sinking. There is a significant retarding of the melody as the swan leisurely turns homeward and is lost among the darkening shadows of the shore.

Wisconsin U. Professor, Here

Psychologists' Teachings
Are "Old Stuff."

TELLS OF EXPOSURE OF SPIRIT MEDIUMS

Recalls Days When This City Led Country in Number of Clairvoyants—Speaks Before Ad Club.

St. Louis has the reputation among scientists throughout the country of being an "easy mark" for persons promoting new cults. Prof. Joseph Jastrow, professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

"When clairvoyants were allowed to practice, you had more mediums
in proportion to the size of the city than any other city," he said. "The very fact that you prohibited them by law proves that they must have been pretty bad. Kansas City and Chicago have had somewhat similar reputations, and now it seems to be shifting to Los Angeles."

He had been speaking of the recent visit to St. Louis of "Dr." Orlando Miller and Miss Anna Maud Hallam, lecturers on "applied psychology," the operations of whom have been described in the Post-Dispatch.

Teachings Old Stuff, He Says.

"There are a lot of them going around," Prof. Jastrow said. "Most of them are money makers. They are having two or three of them in Chicago every week now. Most of it is plain fraud. A few have a small bit of fact on which to hang their theories. The few facts which they do teach are 'old stuff' to real psychologists. Most of their lectures consist of elaborate talk. Those who hear them think they are hearing something, but when they come to sift
it they find it is mostly froth."

Prof. Jastrow spoke at noon today before the Advertising Club on "Human Nature in Business." He will speak tonight at Washington University Medical School auditorium on "Spiritism Critically Analyzed."

He does not believe that it is possible to communicate with the dead,
and has participated in several scientific experiments at which the fraudulent practices of mediums have been exposed. He will describe some of these in his lecture tonight.

Opponent of Spiritualism.
The mediums on which Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle have depended for some of their most exploited proofs have been definitely exposed as frauds, Prof. Jas-trow asserted, but those two distinguished advocates of spiritualism continue to use them.

He told today of the exposure of a celebrated spiritualistic medium, Kathleen Golligher, in which he participated. Table levitation was one of her chief performances. Two students, dressed in black tight, were concealed in the darkened room, and during the seance squirmed underneath the table. They discovered that the medium wore a shoe with an extra broad flange of sole, which she simply pushed under the table leg,
and thus lifted the table.

Bells Rang by Medium.
Another celebrated medium rang bells and played musical instruments, while two observers testified that they were touching the hands throughout the seance. What actually was discovered was that the first observer was holding her hand,
she, with the same hand, was holding the other observer's hand, thus leaving her other hand free to make the noises that were heard. Prof.
Jastrow emphasized that these were medium upon which scientific men were depending for their "proofs."

Dr. Jastrow explained another favorite trick of mediums. It was that in which the medium, blindfolded, is driven through streets in an automobile, and detects the presence of an office building in which a certain book has been hidden. The fact is,
he said, that the blindfolded person has been informed what building the book is in. The blindfold consists of a bandage over the eyes, and a black cap pulled down over the head. The cap actually is transparent silk, and the bandage over the eyes, under the cap, and is enabled to see, he said.

DRYS IN CONGRESS PLAN TO TIGHTEN UP LIQUOR LAWS

Jail Sentence for First Offenders, Punishment of Buyers, Stopping of Home Brew Among Changes Proposed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Prohibition leaders in Congress are hoping to tighten up the Volstead law.

They are planning new legislation to provide a flat jail sentence for the first offense of selling liquor, without giving the courts the optional right of imposing a fine.

Other changes being discussed
among the prohibition leaders relate to the search-and-seizure clause, so as to reach the home brew and to make more sweeping the present law
under which a person buying liquor may be punished equally with the person selling it.

Confiscation of every drop of liquor held by citizens, regardless as to when or how it was acquired, is also being urged. This would legalize seizure of all stocks held in a private cellar of a safety deposit vault.

Objection to that, however, has been made by some dry leaders, on the ground that little such liquor finds its way into channels of bootlegging trade, and that it won't be long before all such liquor will be used up.

Would Facilitate Trials.
Unless a pending bill, which would permit Federal commissioners to try minor liquor cases, is passed, a proposed amendment to the Volstead law would take care of this. Federal Court clerks are now badly congested with Volstead violations and Government officials have reported a change of procedure necessary.

The big fight for the amendment will start with the opening of the new session in April, according to dry leaders.

They say they have enough votes in the House now to put through any added restrictions they might desire, but that there is not enough time left.

Meanwhile, Chairman Volstead
of the House Judiciary Committee, on whose shoulders will fall the bulk of revolving and tightening up, is awaiting word from prohibition enforcement officers as to suggestions for making the law bulletproof. He wants the advice of the men charged with responsibility of breaking up the outlaw traffic.

Chairman Volstead has expressed sympathy with the 1 w, believing it was born with teeth, but in talks with members he has expressed the belief that others might be added.

Reports showing heavy transportation of liquor and wholesale smuggling, prompted the movement to put persons transporting and selling it in jail immediately.

In the effort to stop some brewing and operation of kitchens or not of distilleries, turning out small quantities of liquor for sale, prohibition leaders admit that they will run into a storm of opposition. When the Volstead bill was before Congress in 1919, the big fight was on the search and seizure provision.
This, as finally drafted, stipulated that no search warrant should be issued to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it were being used for unlawful sale of liquor containing more than one-half per cent of alcohol. Elimination of this provision, it is said, would leave any place open to search.

Strangulation for Germany, Sentence of Death for Europe, Asserts Gibbs

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The exports tax imposed on Germany under the reparation plan, drafted by the Allied Supreme Council, is the principal object of criticism in responses to the New York World's request for discussion of the terms, which replies received are the following:

George M. Reynolds, chairman of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, Chicago: I doubt if the world industry, commerce or credit will be stabilized by the German indennity as fixed. The economic burden to be borne by Germany will be a handicap to business. That country's debt is approximately $60,- 000,000,000. Add approximately $34,000,000,000 indemnity and an enormous amount of unsecured paper currency and the result is more than twice Germany's estimated wealth. Hampered by a 12 1/2 per cent tax on exports, they will be unable to pay, as the tax is prohibitive,
the only way ultimately a country can gain means of payment of outside indebtedness is through the profit made in foreign trade. The tax is not calculated to stimulate greater exports, as it will be payable to the foreigner and not to the home government as heretofore, when it served as a means of defraying government expenses. It is greatly to be feared the incidence upon the reparations plan will have a most depressing effect upon the morale of the people of Germany and encourage a policy of defiance which threatens the German situation.

Samuel P. Colt, president of the United States Rubber Co.: I would say I am encouraged to believe that the allies propose to penalize
the German people for the damage done to the world, stabilize credit, stimulate industry and have a most beneficial effect upon our home industries. In fact, I look upon it as the forerunner of improvement in our industrial situation.

Samuel Rea, president Pennsylvania Railroad: In my opinion, adjustment of war conditions and restoration of definite industrial, commercial and financial relations at home and abroad cannot be reached until at least the following three steps have been taken:

1. Fix the German indemnity on a graduated basis extending over a period of about 40 or 50 years.
2. Fund the indebtedness of foreign nations to the United States for supplies furnished.

3. Fund the war cost to the United States for a similar period. All three fundings to have the benefit of active sinking fund to pay off the debt within the above period.

Until this is done it is useless to expect the present generation to bear
the cost of the war within a short period. The heavy burden of the war taxes. We cannot have prosperity in the United States while the rest of the civilized world, in large

WAGES STEADY HERE BUT JOBS DECREASE

Federal Board Report Shows Unemployment More Pronounced in St. Louis During January.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Industrial operations have not increased sufficiently to effect a material reduction in the widespread unemployment prevailing a month ago, according to the review of business and financial conditions of the country for January just issued by the Federal Reserve Board.

A slight increase in the activity of leading New England industries during the month probably has brought a measure of relief there, the review says, but in the South and West the situation has become more acute. In the San Francisco district, previously slightly affected, the board reports unemployment to be abnormally great for this season.

Wage reductions have continued, the board says, and the curtailment has spread to sections of the country where wage rates have hitherto been maintained at high levels. About 100,000 textile mill workers in New England have suffered wage cuts averaging 22 1/2 per cent, the review added, and while reductions in the boot and shoe industry have not been so large, they have been extensive.

Many Applicants in Boston.
Some increase in the demand for labor in Massachusetts was noted in January, but the Boston employment office informed the board that the number of applicants was the greatest on record during the first days of the month.

Unemployment in the New York district increased by about 4 per cent in January, the review said. Some textile mills have reopened and there has been greater activity in the men's clothing industry of Rochester. It added, but transportation companies dropped a considerable number of employees during the month.

Unemployment was likewise widespread among longshoremen, freight handlers, dock workers and seamen, while there were further reductions in iron and steel plants, the board added.

In the Philadelphia district unemployment is prevalent, the board reports, as a result of the continuance of shutdowns of plants, or curtailment of operations in many lines of industry.

Textile mills in the Richmond District resumed work in January, but in the building trades and in the ranks of unskilled labor, the review said, a serious lack of employment existed there.

The number of unemployed has increased decidedly in the Atlanta district, and idleness has become widespread in the ranks of the unskilled. In many lines wage reductions have already been made, the board added.

St. Louis Wage Scale Steady.
Unemployment became more pronounced in the St. Louis district during the month, the board stated, being especially felt in industries such as iron and steel, automobiles, shoes, furniture, clothing and lumber. So far, wages have continued fairly steady, despite the decline in the numbers employed, the board added, while a return flow of labor from cities to the farms has been especially noticeable.

In the Minneapolis district, unemployment is increasing. The board reported no work in progress at the Luthi shipyard, and considerable decline in the number at work in mining and lumbering operations.

With the exception of San Francisco, conditions in California are not unfavorable, the board says in its review. But in Portland unemployment was twice the normal figure, and in Spokane nearly twice the normal. Wage reductions of from 10 to 20 per cent have occurred in various parts of the district, the board added.

Continued decrease in wholesale trade activities, particularly in the Southern and Southwestern sections of the country, was reported by the board, but the situation in retail trade there was characterized by considerable buying of a careful and discriminating nature.

Prices of certain staples, notably grains, cotton and other agricultural products, rose early in January, the board reported, but later in the month declined again. Other leading commodities, however, such as crude and refined oils and bituminous coal, not greatly affected in earlier months, were increasingly weak, and iron and steel continued to decline.

Credit Demand Slackens.
Financially the month has been encouraging, the board declares. Slackening in the demand for credit resulted in a material reduction in the total outstanding volume of circulation, amounting in the month to about $50,000,000, while gold holdings increased to about $25,000,000. In private finance, the board said, the month has been a period of improvement of value in most classes of securities.

Fight Against Old Age
Uses a Simple Plan

In June, 1913, H. H. von Schlick of 24 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., could be seen any day visiting prominent Pittsburgh business men in their downtown offices. He carried a satchel, and his arrival was always greeted by a smile indicating welcome. These men were his customers. They drank at his "fountain of youth."

They accredited him with a new lease of life and the healthy condition of their families.

From his satchel von Schlick pulled out a box. He caressed it tenderly. This was his secret.

Where did he get it?

That is the story every reader of this article should remember. Mr. von Schlick had knowledge of the secret and process for making this marvelous health product for 15 years. It came to him when he was sick, when he had stomach trouble and felt like a victim of the hook-worm. One day his friend, Boris Marokoff, an old Bulgarian, came to him and said: "Mr. von Schlick, why are you ill? If you follow my advice you will be on your feet tomorrow, and you will never permit yourself to get in that condition again." This Bulgarian was 54 years old and a fine representative of his long-lived countrymen. He gave to von Schlick a package of herbs, including leaves, bark, flowers, roots, seed, plants and berries. He showed von Schlick how to mix it and he told him to go home and take a hot cupful of these herbs.

Von Schlick's recovery began from that moment. Next day he felt like a different man. He was exhilarated. He made another cupful and he soon commenced to take on strength. Soon he was at work again, cheerful and happy, and he was the marvel of his friends.

He ascribed from Marokoff the secret for making this herb tea, and he felt it was his mission to assist others. In his neighborhood he gave this herb tea to many and they all came back for more. Soon his friends insisted that he give them this herb tea in quantity. Von Schlick found that his time was occupied making up these herbs and when he was asked by his friends to prepare it for sale, he finally did so.

Only merit and results could have accomplished what this Bulgarian Blood Tea has in the past eight years. During the influenza epidemics of 1918-19-20, thousands of sufferers from this dread disease found prompt relief by using Bulgarian Blood Tea. Taken steam hot helps to break up a cold and guard against influenza and pneumonia.

All druggists now keep Bulgarian Blood Tea in stock, but owing to the enormous demand immediate application to your druggist is urged on account of the limited supply. Distributors are authorized to return the full purchase price if it does not prove to be highly beneficial to the health. This evidence of faith in the power of Bulgarian Blood Tea is the guarantee of H. H. von Schlick, President of the Marvel Products Company, sole manufacturers, Marvel Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., who authorize this public announcement.

BOARDS OF TRADING CAUSES LAST HOUR DROP IN MARKET

Losses Common Among Rails
and More Active Industrials—Trading Dull Early in Day.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The Evening
Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:
"The day on the Stock Exchange was very similar to yesterday. Trading was dull until the last hour, when raising of the rate on call money from 7 to 8 per cent, taken with the passing of the American Hide and Leather preferred dividend, brought a burst of selling and general decline of a point or two. Toward the close the rails, which were quiet throughout, showed fractional net losses, while among active industrials losses of between 1 and 2 points were common. Money closed at 8 per cent."

Exchange Market Speculative.
The speculative appearance of the foreign exchange market continued today, with the trading chiefly in sterling, French francs and German marks. At the start the market was quietly weak, sterling falling to $2.79, which is 4 cents below last night's close and 1/2 cents below the high of last Thursday. French francs fell to 65 cents, or 23 below last night's close and 60 cents below the high of about a week ago. German marks touching 1.43 cents, which price represents a loss of about one-third of a cent in the past week. The early market showed a general prevalence of selling with little in the way of buying, however, the situation remained quiet with offerings restricted.
Covering of extensive short lines evidently was in progress. At all events sterling picked up 1/4 cents, while francs rose to 65 cents and marks to 1.53. The other European exchanges acted similarly.
The Far Eastern exchanges meanwhile stiffened somewhat after yesterday's precipitous break, despite the fact that silver lost another 1/2 of a penny at London, falling to an even new low of 147 cents. Shanghai halves gained 1/2 cents at 68.
Canadian silver dollars followed sterling selling for 88.5 cents in the afternoon.

Reaction in Commodity Markets.
Reaction also prevailed in the commodity markets. The principal grains all making new low records.
March wheat broke 5 1/2 cents below
last night's close, selling for 1.14 1/2.
The May delivery touching 1.14 1/2.
Sharp declines in the price of argentine wheat were reported and export demand was light. Corn and oats made their new low at 62 1/2 and 40 1/2 cents respectively. The price of other markets was reflected in cotton, where liquidation of speculative holdings continued. The March delivery broke one-half cent to 1.14 1/2.
which is only about one-third of a cent above the low of December, recovering partially to 1.17 1/2.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—All the markets were unsettled again today by the German reparations problem. The storm of protests sent up not only from German quarters but from allied sources as well, seemed to great-enough the whole situation with great uncertainty and to place the settlement further off than ever.

It was hard to tell which counted
the more—the belief that the reparations plan as formulated by the Paris Council at the close of last week, or the fear that if any such severe terms were enforced it would have an unpleasant reaction upon the trade of the world. But at all events the various markets showed plainly enough that they did not like the present position of things.

A violent decline of the foreign exchange, was the most emphatic response of the day. Sterling got down at one time to 1.17, which figure it was off nearly 5 cents from last night and fully 9 cents from the high of a week ago. French exchange went down with scarcely less abruptness, while German marks which were relatively the weakest of anything were some down to 1.43, thus losing the entire advance of the past two months.

This remarkable reversal in the exchanges had its effect naturally enough in other directions. British consolidated in London had an unusual decline of a full point on the day.
French Government 5s went down similarly. This led to active selling for foreign accounts as the stock market at least temporarily depression in the railway list in the proceedings before the Labor Board in Chicago, which although they were not fully appreciated until this morning. This is not the first time that the vice-president of the Pennsylvania has appeared on the role of a Jeremiah and few will doubt that the picture of him in case they are not given free rein to cut down their working force in a good deal overdrawn. But the sensational statement did not add to the tranquility of holders of the railway shares.

Weakness was more pronounced in the grain and cotton markets than it was in stocks. Cotton has been moving in close conformity with sterling exchange so that its reaction was not surprising. Wheat is still suffering from the depression
in the export demand, the active commodity of other producing countries and the practical certainty that importation of wheat will fall to par
at the present session of Congress.
The stock market lost a point or more in the representative issues with larger declines in some of the narrower specialties.

The volume of business on the exchange was not at all large.

FATHER DEMPSEY
REPORTS ON CHARITIESTen-Cent Rooms and Beds Paid Great Part of Expenses of Hotel for Men.

Rooms and beds at 10 cents to 25 cents a night and meals at 10 cents to 25 cents went a long way toward paying the operating expenses of Father Timothy Dempsey's Hotel and Restaurant for men at 1111-21 North Seventh street during 1920, according to the annual report of his charities, made public today by Father Dempsey.

The expenses of the hotel were $25,408.83 and the receipts from room rents, beds and meals were $20,751.96. The institution received donations of $4507.16 and a contribution of $1298.25 from the St. Vincent de Paul Society, making total receipts of $26,557.37. The year was closed with a balance on hand of $166.54.

The report covers two other institutions conducted by Father Dempsey, a hotel for working women at 1421 Hogan street, and a day nursery at 1509 North Seventh street. The total receipts of the three institutions were $25,500.72 and the disbursements were $26,049.64, leaving a deficit of $548.92.

The aim for 1921, the report states, is to make the institutions self-supporting.

Father Dempsey's Statement.
A signed statement by Father Dempsey prefacing the report is, in part, as follows:

"We take this opportunity of thanking our benefactors for their many evidences of interest as shown by the donations which we received during the year. Our success is due to a great extent to the generous notices given in the press, for which we feel deeply grateful. At the present time the capacity of our men's hotel is taxed to the limit of 278."

"In our day nursery we have over 100 little ones who are brought to their mothers every morning and kept through the day in care of the Sisters of Charity. We have had an average of 70 girls daily in our workwomen's hotel and would have room for many more, but that we are hampered for lack of means to discontinue our purchases of necessary furnishings."

"After paying for needed improvements and part of the cost of the building, furniture, etc., our resources were exhausted. Some of our friends have promised to secure for us the funds required to pay the amount still owing on the building ($18,000), and what is necessary to furnish it throughout in a manner suited to the modest requirements of the guests."

On the purchase price of the building used for the working women's hotel $4000 was paid and $10,000 was expended for remodeling. The total expenditures for this institution was $24,109.13 and the receipts were $22,731.25, leaving a deficit of $377.88.

$239 Deficit for Day Nursery.
The day nursery was operated with expenditures of $1531.48 and receipts of $1292.10 from donations, fees and all sources, leaving a deficit of $239.38.

The men's hotel furnished lodging to an average of 218 each night and gave 7388 free meals. The women's hotel furnished a total of 22,505 meals, of which only 96 were free. It gave 70 free lodgings and found employment for 50 women.

The day nursery cared for 200 children during the year, the average daily attendance being 115. It furnished 12,482 free meals to children.

TWO GIRLS, 6 AND 7, INJURED BY AUTO

One Suffers Fractured Skull—Police Say Driver Was Not Watching Street

Sadie Topp, 7 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Topp of 1609 South Second street, and Susie Dumba, 6, daughter of Mrs. Antonio Flocks of 914 Carroll street, were seriously injured at 4:30 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by Edward C. Sanner of 1396 Arlington avenue, division manager of the General Motors Co. in front of 1548 South Seventh street.

The police quote witnesses as saying that Sanner was not watching what was in front of him; that he was driving about 20 miles an hour and that his car skidded 40 or 50 feet after the accident. Sanner was arrested for felonious wounding and was not released until he had given bond of $1500.

Sanner denied that he was not watching the street in front of him, and explained to the police that two motor cars were parked on the east side of Seventh street and that the children ran out from between the two cars and that he did not see them in time to stop his automobile. He took the children in his car to the city hospital, where physicians said Sadie Topp suffered a fractured skull, while the Dumba girl suffered numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body.

Steve Valchich, 14, of 219 Morrison avenue suffered injuries to the abdomen and numerous bruises when struck by an automobile, driven by Elmer Runge of 720 North Fourth street, as he alighted from a moving Bellefontaine car at Tenth street and Clark avenue.

Lueverlin Dunwoody, 13, of 313 North Fifteenth street, a negro, was struck by an automobile bearing an Illinois license as she was crossing Olive at Fifteenth street last night. Her left foot was crushed and she suffered cuts and bruises. The automobile did not stop.

For Indigestion

Mi-O-Na Is Guaranteed to Promptly Relieve Stomach Distress

People go on suffering from indigestion, stomach trouble, flatulence and gas, when they have a serious disease. They over-eat and force on the stomach a lot of extra work. But they never think that the stomach needs extra help to do extra work. If these people would take a Mi-O-Na tablet with or after meals it would do a great deal to help the stomach in its strain of overwork.

Mi-O-Na helps your tired-out stomach to do its work and banishes the cause. No matter what you eat or drink, Mi-O-Na will awaken your sleep-somnolent and stop gas belching in five minutes. The best business diagnosis of a stomach is greatly aided in its work of digestion.

And Mi-O-Na not only promptly relieves all distress, but if taken regularly will banish indigestion. Get Mi-O-Na everywhere at all drug stores.

For Catarrh or money back. Just breathe it in. Outfit includes tablet, basin bottle at all drug stores.

It Appears That Ashton Donza Was Very Much Put Out by Babe Asher's Conduct

St. Louis Soccer League Threatens To Quit U. S. F. A.

Decision Against Scullins Will Cause Resignation, President Barker Writes Cahill.

BRADY FILES PROTESTS

Local Manager Thinks Delay at Start of Second Half is His Strongest Point.

Winton E. Barker, president of the St. Louis Soccer League, in a letter to Thomas Cahill, former St. Louisan, secretary of the United States Football Association, that St. Louis would resign immediately from the national championship series if a decision unfavorable to the Scullins was rendered in their protest of the fifth round replay game at Chicago Sunday.

Barker brought out several points in his letter. He stated that while it was not specifically stated in the rules that the same referee act in the replay, it had heretofore been the custom. He cited the case of the Erie-Robins game. For the replay, Erie asked for another referee, but was denied the privilege.

The president of the local soccer organization also told Cahill in his letter that "what happened in Chicago last Sunday was one of the worst knocks the soccer sport had ever received."

Scullins Official Makes Statement. Barker wrote Cahill that he disliked to trouble him at the present time on account of the trouble he had had in the recent Erie-Robins case, which only recently was decided against the Erie team, but that in the interest of St. Louis soccer he was forced to take this move. Mr. Barker said: "This is the committee's chance to get rid of an undesirable."

However, Barker is not the only one who is ready to step out of the U. S. F. A. in case of an unfavorable decision. Ed Judge, an official of the Scullins Steel Co., who witnessed the game in the Windy City, stated that if the U. S. F. A. did not do something and the St. Louis League did not withdraw, there would never be another eleven with Scullins written across the front of their shirts in the competition.

Brady Sends in Protest. After writing in his protests yesterday morning, Manager Tate Brady of the Scullins team followed them with a special delivery letter last night. While Brady itemized several things, he thought that his best ground for protest is the long interval allowed between periods, during which time the Chicago players were permitted to take a shower, bath, rub-down, change their uniforms and dry out their shoes, while St. Louis men were forced to take the field in their wet clothes.

The other charges were that McKenzie gave the Bricklayers a penalty kick for no reason and allowed the contest to go overtime. Brady's protest is not so much an intervention, but on the fact that after McKenzie blew his whistle to start the second half, the Bricklayer players delayed the start by taking their time in going on the field. This question is covered by the rules, which state that a team has logical ground for a protest if the opposing team delays the start of the second half.

The Money Part of It. McKenzie blew his whistle twice to get the Chicago players on the field, waiting five minutes, and then when Brady asked him why he did not start told the Scullins manager "that he was running the game." The third time he blew his whistle, he allowed the half to start.

If the U. S. F. A. committee decides against St. Louis and the locals withdraw from the competition, the national body will lose a great source of revenue. In the original game played in St. Louis, the U. S. F. A. got $15 per cent amounting to about $50, while at Chicago last Sunday it was about $60.

COLLINS SAYS HE NEVER BET ON A BALL GAME. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 1.—Eddie Collins, the Chicago second baseman and captain of the team, who lives at Lansdowne, when told that certain indicated White Sox players were trying to get him involved in the 1915 scandal claiming that he had told fellow teammates to bet on the Tigers to beat out the Yankees for third place said:

"That's the most ridiculous assertion I have ever heard. I never bet on a ball game in my life nor did I ever tell any of my teammates to bet on the Tigers to beat out the Yankees in 1915. We played the Tigers the last series of the season that year and they beat us, but we tried hard enough to win. There never arose any discussion on my part as to what a better proposition there was in the race between the Tigers and Yankees for third place and this charge against me concerning betting is absolutely nothing to me as far as I am concerned."

Arie Qualifies in Shoot. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Mark Arie of Champaign, Ill., winner of the individual trapshooting championship at the Antwerp Olympics, was among those to qualify in the preliminary round of the indoor championship event, which opened here yesterday. Arie returned a perfect score card.

Asher Stops Donza in Poor Bout; Weilman Writes Taylor Floors Murphy in First

"Babe" Comes to Life in Final Round, After Wretched Showing for Seven Periods; Terre Haute Fighter Gains Draw With South Side Bantam and Makes Fine Impression.

By John E. Wray.

Johnny "Babe" Asher, A. E. F. bantam champion, furnished a surprise at the National Sporting Club's boxing hall, held at the First Regiment Armory, last night. About 2500 persons who had raved through seven rounds of as poor a boxing contest as ever made ringers wish for gas masks, were shocked into uprightism—purely physical—when Babe leaped from his corner at the start of the eighth and smashed Ashton Donza of New Orleans flush on his vitreous jaw.

The fact that he landed was Shock No. 1. Jolt No. 2 came when, following the punch, Donza crumpled up to the floor, where he fozzled round trying to get the bats out of his belfry. He had not succeeded at the count of five, but he arose, nevertheless, and Babe promptly crashed home another right that sent Donza prone to the floor. At the count of eight he had tortured himself into an upright position and was about to receive the finishing stroke from Babe's poised mitt when Referee Walter Heister stepped in and stayed Asher's hand, holding that Donza was helpless.

For the six rounds previous Babe had furnished the crowd another sort of surprise. Dancing around his customary Harry Greb stuff, he had led scores of times at Donza, but for every hook, swing or right-hand chop that he launched at the Crescent City fighter, all but about one in 10 smashed the circumference of the ring. If Babe had purposely been trying to miss Donza or land on an unimportant portion of the enemy's anatomy, he couldn't have figured it out better.

Donza Leads on Points. Donza's shiftness was partly responsible for some of the Babe's poor work, but most of it was due to Asher himself. In the seventh round Babe changed his tactics. He stopped dancing and stood up in the conventional posture of a regular fighter. For the first time he took punch after punch on his aristocratic beecher that caused him to wipe off that organ repeatedly.

Babe appeared to have either broken down the springs in his legs or to be setting himself for a right cross. As result Donza was leading on points when the gong rang for the final session.

Sam Eckert, who pilots Babe's ship through the stormy seas of pugilism, was troubled with sinking of the heart. There were comments drifting into his corner about Babe "laying" down. Donza money was doing a lot of talking.

"I told Babe after the seventh," Eckert said, "that if he couldn't stop a fight, he had better leave town if he didn't come to life and stop that bird; and he came through."

Lucky Babe. For seven rounds he appeared as if he couldn't stop a clock. But in the final round it appeared that he could have stopped Donza at any moment during the fight.

How come? At last a Real Fight. But if the final event was tame, the semi-final was worth the entire amount charged. Buddie Taylor, a gangling youth of the bantam division with a pale blue fighting eye, blond hair, long reach and a stance like the Colossus of Rhodes, furnished the fireworks for the occasion.

At first Jimmy tried to smile it off, conveying the impression that he expected the storm to pass quickly.

AMERICAN GOLF DATES NOT TO CONFLICT WITH BRITISH TOURNAMENT. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The British open golf championship tournament will begin at St. Andrews June 20. It was stated in a cable message received today by the United States Golf Association.

Tentative dates for three American championships—open, amateur and women's—have been selected, "but will not be announced by the association for a few days to insure that the dates are satisfactory to both American and foreign players."

Robert Gardner of Chicago, former amateur title holder, has been appointed as the Executive Committee which will select courses for the 1922 championships. He will be aided by W. C. Fawcett Jr., Pittsburgh, and Thomas R. Paine, Atlanta.

The announcement from Washington on Saturday that the open championship would be played at the Columbia Golf Club at Chevy Chase, July 19 to 21 was premature.

Dreyfus Has His Say. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburgh National League club, said here today that the "Rixes" with "Rabbit" Maranville in the lineup "will return to the glorious days of Honus Wagner."

Quinn Makes Announcement, Following Receipt of Letter From Left-Hander.

Carl Wellman, southpaw of the Browns, although he has signed a contract for the coming season, has decided to retire from the national pastime. This information was received by Bob Quinn, business manager of the local A. L. club in a letter from the left-hander this morning.

Wellman has been in ill health for the past four years. The Scullins are therefore disgruntled. And enter an earnest protest: They vow and declare: Had the "Brickies" played fair. They would have been knocked galley west.

And hence there is weeping and wailing. While teeth have been wrathfully And the Scullins maintain: If they play 'em again. The "Brickies" are due to get smashed.

PRETTY FAIR. A man in Philadelphia skated 165 1/2 miles in 24 hours. Pretty good record for a 24-hour skate, considering the scarcity of skating material.

The Bricklayers took a shower bath before periods. The Scullins claim they didn't need one, as they always play a clean game.

Rogers' Hornsby isn't a holdout. He is a hold over, which is something else again.

"Stranger" Lewis protests against the use of the "headlock." Without the famous "nutcracker hold" the "Stranger" would have about as much chance as a gunman with a gun.

Three St. Louis men have been given places on an "All-America" track team. They will enter on their duties at once.

Jess Willard says he makes more money in oil than in boxing. Indicating that it is easier to strike oil than a vital spot on some guy's chin.

PRETTY SOFT. JESS WILLARD doesn't have to tell. A live cat provides. For he engaged in striking oil And boxing on the side.

And when he isn't landing flush on some boxer's nose. He likes to watch the gusher gush And that's the way it goes.

CANT BE DONE. See where Mr. Harding has gone to New York to rest and shop. Whaddya mean, rest and shop?

There is a bill before the Legislature forbidding druggists to sell anything without a doctor's prescription. How about postage stamps?

The large and favorably known firm of butchers known as Morris & Co. recently cut a $37,000.00 note. Which might be designed as one of the choicest cuts known to the business.

BILL TO PUNISH PLAYERS WHO "THROW GAMES" IS INTRODUCED IN NEW YORK. ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 1.—No baseball player will be able to throw away a world's series and escape criminal prosecution in New York State if the bill presented last night by Senator F. W. Kavanaugh of Saratoga County, becomes a law.

"My bill," explained Senator Kavanaugh, "provides that any professional baseball player who takes part in a game in which he is taking part, or expects to take part, or is fixed for, or is to receive $10,000 and imprisoned in the penitentiary not less than one year or more than five years, the same penalty is fixed for any baseball player who solicits or accepts any valuable thing to influence him to lose a contest."

Urging passage of the Kavanaugh bill, John Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs, has written the Legislature that the proposal should be "accepted by all clean sport lovers."

Municipal Quintet Will Be Sent to National Tourney

Victor in St. Louis Title Race Will Be Sent to Kansas City Next Month.

The basketball team which wins the municipal championship of St. Louis will be sent to Kansas City to compete in the National A. U. title tournament, which will be played early in March. This will be the first time that a local quintet has gone after the nation's honor since the Columbian A. C. five played in Chicago in 1917.

The New York University club holds the 1920 championship and recently announced that it would defend its laurels at Kansas City. Teams will also enter from the Pacific Coast, Salt Lake City, Atlanta, Memphis and Chicago. Thus every section of the country will be represented.

From present indications, the Leacocks or Epsilon Ets of the open division will carry the message of St. Louis basketball to Jackson County. Their league seems to be the strongest in the city, and, of course, these five are still tied for the leadership. Kenrick won from Epsilon Eta and Epsilon Eta defeated the Leacocks, while the latter won from Kenrick.

The two teams will meet again in a very short time and this game will settle the championship dispute. It should be the battle of the year.

Billkins Easily Win. The St. Louis University basketball team played its first game for two weeks last night, when it defeated the St. Charles Independent five at St. Charles, 43 to 18. Capt. Weber and Vonachen starred on the offensive, the former scoring 19 points and the latter 15.

Tonight the Billkins will meet the Brown College quintet at College Hall, 8 o'clock.

Two games were played in the Monday Night division of the Girls' Municipal Basketball League at Boyle Center last night. The Glasgows defeated Rock Springs, 26 to 2; and Rock Church won from Boyle Center, 15 to 11.

NEBRASKA FIVE WINS FROM OKLAHOMA, 34-20. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 1.—Nebraska won its third Missouri Valley Conference basketball game here yesterday by trouncing the Oklahoma Sooners, 34 to 20. Although pushed by the Sooners in the first period, Nebraska showed superiority throughout the contest. The first half ended 16 to 13, with the Cornhuskers leading.

The score: NEBRASKA (34). Warren, forward..... 2 0 4 Smith, forward..... 2 0 4 Bekins, center..... 3 10 16 Newman, guard..... 1 0 2 Duley, C. guard..... 3 0 6 Carman, forward..... 1 0 2 Totals..... 12 10 34

Dempsy in Los Angeles. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 1.—Jack Dempsy, world's heavyweight champion, is in Los Angeles today. His stay here until he leaves for New York to prepare for a bout there with Jess Willard is indefinite, he said. He is planning on appearing in a motion picture while here.

Zbyzsko Defeats Mondt. GREELEY, Colo., Feb. 1.—Stanislaus Zbyzsko, Polish wrestler, threw "Foots" Mondt, wrestling instructor at Colorado Agricultural College, in 1b. 10 1/4 min. with a Gracero-Roman flying mare hold here last night.

Stanford to Tour Far East. STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Feb. 1.—Announcement was made, the graduate manager's office here yesterday that the Stanford University varsity baseball team will tour the Far East this summer, playing games in Japan, South Manchuria and the Philippine Islands.

Moore Wins From Kelly. AURORA, Ill., Feb. 1.—Pal Moore was given the newspaper decision over Jimmy Kelly of Chicago last night in a fast 10-round bout. The men are bantamweights.

Tex Rickard to Handle Title Go Without Partners. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Tex Rickard will promote the Dempsey-Carpenter bout for the heavyweight championship of the world alone. He made this announcement yesterday after a conference with William A. Brady, at which he agreed to take over the interests of both Brady and Charles E. Cochran of London, England, who is seriously ill.

The necessary legal papers will be drawn up within the next few days and with the signing of these Rickard will remain as sole promoter of the international contest for the premier title of pugilism.

Under the new agreement he will become responsible for the entire amount of the promoters' guarantee or forfeit, which totals $100,000. There will be no change in the contract between the boxers and Rickard, which was made last year.

Cochran and Schaefer To Watch Belgian Cue Star; May Challenge

THEY will be trained on the left movements of Edouard Horemans, balk line champion of Europe, during the ensuing three days at Maurice Daly's Academy. Starting this afternoon, Horemans will play Albert Cutler of Boston, a 1600-point exhibition of 182 balk line billiards in blocks of 400 points.

Cutler is said to be the strongest player Horemans has yet faced. In this country, the match will prove something of an odd test of the skill that recently produced runs exceeding all records.

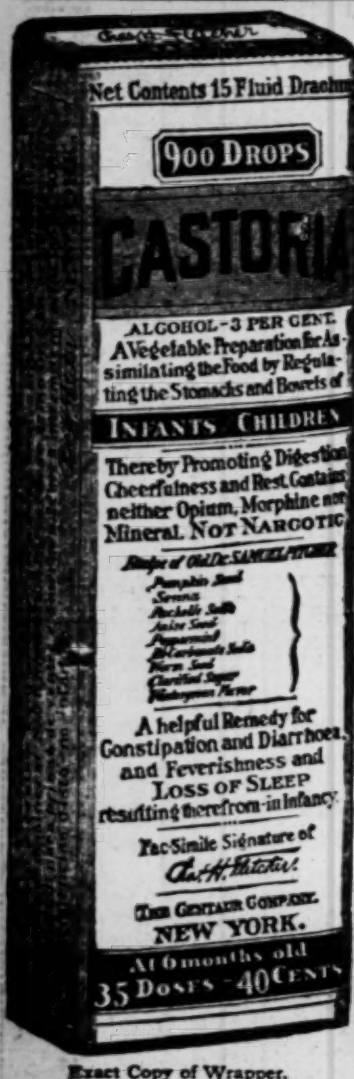

Incidentally the exhibition will be closely watched by David Palm, manager of Jake Schaefer and Walker Cochran, who are expected to come on from a tour of the West. Neither has seen Horemans in action and following the close of the engagement at Toledo, will start East with the intention of arriving here in time to witness the final two blocks of the Horemans-Cutler match. They may challenge Horemans.

Kraehe Is Named Pikeaway Captain. Washington University's Star Tackle Will Head This Year's Football Team.

Oliver Kraehe, a Junior in the School of Law, was elected captain of the 1921 Washington University football team at the annual "W" dinner given by the Washington Union at Francis Gymnasium last night.

Kraehe was a tackle on the varsity eleven the past two years and is at present captain and guard on the varsity basketball team. He is the first man to captain two Pikeaway major sport teams this decade. His victory came by a small majority over Leo Shanley, the brilliant end and first baseman of the nine.

Letters were awarded to athletes who have won their letter in all branches of sport during the previous year. The recipients were: Auer, track, basketball, baseball, football; 1920, baseball, football; 1919, baseball, football; 1918, baseball, football; 1917, baseball, football; 1916, baseball, football; 1915, baseball, football; Are Weak Nerves and Thin Blood Making a Failure Out of You?

Iron starvation of the blood weakens the will power, robs you of your bodily and mental vigor and often keeps you from making the money and success you should

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

When your blood is thin, pale and watery it loses its power to change food into living tissue, and NOTHING YOU EAT DOES YOU THE PROPER AMOUNT OF GOOD—you don't get the full strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, nervous, irritable and easily upset.

Also YOUR BRAIN BECOMES DULL AND HEAVY, your memory poor; your will power weakened; you can't think right and you are no match for the fellow with a keen, active, powerful mind.

It's the "man of blood and iron"—THE STRONG, FORCEFUL, VIGOROUS FELLOWS that make the money and become the great captains of industry.

When you get up feeling tired in the morning, when you can no longer do your day's work without being all fagged out at night; when your digestion all goes wrong, or you have pain across the back and your face looks pale and drawn, do not wait until you are all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until you contract some serious disease. At once get a bottle of NUXATED IRON. It contains a specimen of your blood corpuscles, or test the iron power of your blood by adding plenty of spinach, carrots, baked apples or other iron-containing fruits and vegetables to your food and take gradually from this, NUXATED IRON, with them for a while and see how much your condition improves.

Thousands of people have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks' time by this simple experiment. But in making this test, be sure that the iron you take is organic iron, and not metallic or mineral iron, which people usually take. Organic iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic iron may be had from your druggist under the name of NUXATED IRON. Beware of substitutes; look for the letters "N" on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD—GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

ASSISTANT MANAGER OF THEATER AND $2800 GONE

Employee of Loew's Garrick Said to Have Telephoned Actress at Milwaukee Sunday Night.

A police search is being made for John Theiss, 21 years old, assistant manager of Loew's Garrick Theater, a vaudeville house at 521 Chestnut street, following the discovery yesterday afternoon that the safe of the theater contained $2800 less than a "check-up" of the ticket sales by Resident Manager Edward Cline indicated it should have contained.

Theiss, who had been employed at the theater about 18 months, registered at the Marion Roe Hotel last Saturday, but checked out Sunday, and has not since been seen at the hotel. It was understood at the theater that he intended to live at the Marion Roe.

$800 Instead of $2800 in Safe.
It had been Theiss' custom to go on duty at the theater at noon, at which time he would take the cash from the safe, put aside $800 to be used by the ticket sellers in making change and turn over the remainder to Manager Cline, who would take it to a bank and deposit it.

Theiss failed to appear at the usual hour yesterday. Thinking he had overslept, Manager Cline waited until about 5 p. m., when he went to the Marion-Roe Hotel and learned that Theiss had checked out. He then called in policemen and Theiss' father and in their presence he opened the safe, to which he had the combination. His previous "check up" of the Saturday afternoon, Saturday night and Sunday ticket sales, he said, showed that there should be $2800 in the safe.

When it was opened it was found to contain only $800, the amount usually reserved for ticket office change.

FOUR MEN ARRESTED IN RAID ON APARTMENT ARE FINED

Evidence Seized by "Clean-Up" Squad Indicates High School Boys Had Been Enticed to House.

Following the finding yesterday of four men who were arrested Sunday in a raid on an apartment at 4471 Olive street, Circuit Attorney Stinger instructed Capt. Stinger of the police "clean-up" squad to investigate reports of several other such places, and collect evidence to lay before the grand jury.

Hunter K. Crowell of the Olive street address, a designer of millinery, was fined $200 and costs in Police Court yesterday on a charge of keeping a resort. The other men were fined $100 each as frequenters. They gave their names as Albert L. Prince of the same address, book-keeper for a missionary society; Victor C. Heiberger, 4048 North Market street, and Carl Haid, 1751 Missouri avenue, a designer.

The Circuit Attorney, after hearing Capt. Stinger's story of what was found there, said he intended to spare no effort to stamp out such places. Evidence seized during the raid indicated that a number of high school boys had been enticed there.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in the cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Another Lindenwood Picture.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I submit herewith an answer to an article I read in your "People's Column" recently.

Llewellyn wonders why a class of working people, all good citizens of our good old St. Louis, should want a vulgar street car line to Lindenwood. Anyone working eight or nine hours daily, and who has to stand up in the street cars for 20 or more minutes before getting a seat and then still having 25 or 30 minutes to ride, does not care to get off to face a 30-minute walk home reaching home. It is not so bad in summer, but who under the sun wants to plow through snow or mud on a dark winter morning about 4 o'clock and then repeat the same at night? Llewellyn speaks of marring the scenic beauty of this "hamlet," stating that to the south one can see the Ozarks of Jefferson County and to the east the beautiful domes of our own city. Llewellyn evidently has not been in Lindenwood recently, but I've lived there all my life and, as for scenery, this is all I've found: On the west, the beautiful Frisco railroad yards; southwest, two nice big gas tanks; south, a big cornfield and the River des Peres. On the east, the only dome I can see is the one on the city sanitarium, which is far from beautiful. On the north we see the Scullin steel plant. Can a street car spoil these surroundings? Give us a car line, even if it's only as good as the Southampton and runs on a weekly instead of a five-minute schedule. A LINDENWOODER.

History Repeats.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If history is not a liar, then it is repeating itself in this Western Hemisphere of ours. Back to the dark ages of the Eastern Hemisphere, to Russia, when the spies of the Government watched every gathering, when history says that a man dare not have a few friends in his house without Government agents arresting them. Now, to the present time, in this country, with handbills running rampant, the police putting all their efforts in hunting down moonshiners and home-beer makers, with Government spies spying on Government spies, with Capt. Stinger's men checking up the gas bills in the gas office to see if you burned 10 cents more gas this month than last month, if so you are a home-beer maker, your house watched, you are raided.

Dum vivimus, vivamus.
ED WASSERMAN.

Blodgett for Mayor.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

We are on the eve of a most important election, that of a Mayor for our city. Now that women are "Voting Sovereigns" the choice of a mayoralty candidate will be governed by quite different standards than heretofore. Women will demand that the candidate be of exceptionally high moral character.

As a guardian of public morals and as a man of fearless honesty why not nominate Llewellyn Blodgett?
ESTHER GOODHUE.

Favors the Quizon Plan.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

M. G. Quizon of Columbia, Mo. has submitted a plan for the good roads of Missouri which, if followed out, would be worth more to the State as a whole than any plan that has been offered. It would be the main artery to be fed by hard roads from every county of the State.

It would lift Missouri out of the mud, all at once.
It would benefit either directly or indirectly every farmer in the State. It would create a world of new business. The possibilities are so great every business man in St. Louis and Kansas City should get in touch with their friends out in the State to give this plan every consideration.

I hope more business men will take this matter up and may it become more than a dream for a "Greater Missouri."
E. H. B.

The Iron Cross for Him.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Saw the following headlines in your last night's paper: "Senator McDumber Says Unemployed Could Get Work If They Desired, and There Is No Suffering." What about the bread line in Detroit, Mich., and the thousands tramping the streets right here in St. Louis? I'll bet he is against the bonus for the service men, too. We should be proud to have a man in office like him. We ought to present him with an Iron Cross and I'd like to pin it on him.

A. J. EDWARDS.

Room and Board Prices.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It seems as though all classes of profiteers have been criticised by the newspapers within the last year, with the exception of landlords of room and board. Why silent on this subject? As one of their victims, I am inclined to voice my belief that the high rates now in effect are unfair in view of the large reductions in wages, market prices of commodities and even house rent.

JUST PROFIT.

PASS THE COMPENSATION BILL

Radical labor men and irreconcilable employers are threatening the passage of a workmen's compensation law at this session of the Missouri Legislature. One element demands a law with unreasonable concessions to the employer and the other insists that the employer has no rights at all. Either faction prefers no compensation to compromise.

Four measures have been introduced—two radical labor bills, one by a group of Kansas City ultra-conservative employers and the fourth, a compromise, sponsored by the State Federation of Labor and the Associated Industries of Missouri, representing State employers. The latter bill provides that the rate for total disability shall be two-thirds of the wage, but not to exceed $20 a week. It also provides for competitive insurance by private companies and the State.

The Kansas City employers' measure fixes a maximum wage of $15 a week, with no State insurance. It is a duplicate of that defeated at the November election. The two other bills, backed by St. Louis and Kansas City central labor organizations, call for two-thirds of the weekly wage, with no maximum, and monopolistic State insurance, with no participation by private concerns.

The measure drafted jointly by the State Federation of Labor and the Associated Industries of Missouri represents the views of the liberal leaders among employers and employees, and this fact, if for no other reason, should commend it to the Legislature. Each element made concessions, assuming that a compensation law with imperfections was better than no compensation law at all. The agreement represented a beginning, and if its provisions prove inadequate after a fair trial, the law can be amended, a procedure followed in many other states.

Workmen's compensation laws are necessities of modern industry. They are based on the sound law that industry should carry all the cost of industry. They are humane and they are economical. By fixing definite sums for personal injuries, providing for prompt and friendly settlements between the injured employee and the employer, they cut out the ambulance-chasing lawyer, who lives on damage suits, thus avoiding prolonged litigation, legal delays and trickery, with all the cost and suffering and waste that follow in their train.

Social justice and sound public policy demand fair compensation laws. They prevent the pauperizing of the injured workmen and their families, with all the evils, educational, moral and social, that accompany dire poverty.

It is a reproach to Missouri that compensation legislation has been delayed so long. It is now at the foot of the states in this respect.

The Republican party is pledged to compensation legislation. Gov. Hyde made the compensation bill a party measure in his first message. The party must fulfill this pledge. The people expect it. Failure to keep faith will be without excuse.

JUSTICE PLEADS FOR DEBS

President Wilson has forfeited a gracious opportunity in disapproving the recommendation of the Department of Justice that the 10-year prison sentence of Eugene V. Debs be commuted to expire Feb. 12, the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday.

That the letter of the law sustains the President's position cannot be questioned. Debs violated the espionage act and gloried in his offense. He was justly sentenced. Public opinion approved the sentence. But it was a war-time offense, a war-time conviction and a war-time expression of public opinion. The war is over now. The time for leniency has come. Other offenders have been relieved. Why may not the rigor of the law be modified in behalf of Debs?

The case of Debs pleads for clemency with unique eloquence and pathos. He is an old man. He is held in esteem and affection by a great body of our people, which has repeatedly honored him by naming him as its candidate for President. Mistaken as the vast majority of us believe him to be in his indictments of the present order and visionary in his solution of economic injustice, Debs, nevertheless, has battled bravely and unselfishly for his beliefs. Such courage of conviction challenges admiration, however absurd or unpalatable the remedies he proposes.

The great need of all peoples today is peace. We cannot have peace while the bitter judgments of war remain. We ought to bury our hates. What argument can be offered against clemency for Debs? Nobody imagines that Debs' release would imperil society or endanger our Government. As a matter of fact, Debs in prison has far greater power to promote distrust of the Government's fair intention than Debs at liberty would have. But apart from that practical reason, is there not a finer reason, namely, that this fiery old crusader has been punished enough? When the American people's sense of justice asks for bread, even a President might hesitate to offer a stone.

A pardon to Debs would be an appropriate way to observe Lincoln's birthday.

DR. DAVIS' STRANGE DOCTRINE

In a sermon advocating Sunday blue laws the Rev. Dr. Ralph M. Davis of the First Presbyterian Church expressed some extraordinary views with regard to government. He scorned personal liberty, remarking that as an argument against laws regulating personal conduct, it was usually used by "the man with an appetite for a silver ax to grind."

Principles of justice and liberty and individual rights have no standing with Mr. Davis against the will of a majority. He tossed them out of the church window. We quote one paragraph:

"We have learned in this country that nothing is against personal liberty when a majority of the people want it. Our old-fashioned spirit of individualism, which with many amounts to petty anarchism, should receive a collective rebuke now and then. We are a government of majorities, and these must be respected."

In short, Mr. Davis preaches that whatever a majority wants is right, and that it can do what it pleases, regardless of the rights of minorities or individuals.

We were taught different doctrine. We have always understood that under free constitutional government certain rights of individuals were guaranteed. We have been told from infancy of "inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

We have learned the bill of rights in the Constitution and have heard the Supreme Court thunder out, "Thus far shalt thou go, but no farther."

Mr. Davis' doctrine is excellent for a despotism or a dictatorship of the proletariat, but it does not fit into the scheme of a constitutional government of free men, based upon principles of justice and liberty. We admit that we have departed far from the wisdom of the fathers and the doctrine of true democ-

cracy. We have sacrificed some of our dearest possessions on the altar of intolerance and tyranny and centralization. But liberty is not dead nor has justice and truth vanished from the councils of men. There are Americans, not moved by appetite or silver axes or fear of exile, who are battling for truth. And it will prevail against error.

BABIES OR BUSINESS

A local milk distributing company which has refused to permit the city to examine its books offers a banal defense. It professes apprehension as to the effect generally on business which such compliance might have. If the city can examine the books of a milk-distributing company, it argues, why may it not examine the books of any other company doing business here?

From the attitude of this company, which is said to be shared by the other distributing companies, it is apparent that our milk distributors do not realize their present position. They are really on trial. Two charges have been preferred against them—one as to their business practice as it affects the quality of milk, the other as to price. The trial, or investigation, has convicted some of them, broadly speaking, on the first count. Slovenly, filthy conditions have been found. In some instances only a perfunctory compliance with the ordinance requirement as to pasteurizing milk has been reported. In some instances exemption from that requirement has been unwisely and arbitrarily granted.

As to the second count—that of price—the only way the city can determine whether the price the people are paying for milk is reasonable is by examining the books. If that privilege is denied, the city is helpless.

The distributors declare their price is reasonable. One of them, testifying before the committee, said that his company lost money in the retail milk department during a recent month. Without questioning the accuracy of that statement, the city wants proof. The people of St. Louis cannot understand why the price of milk here should be higher than in most cities. If there is a reason for this, the books will show it. If there is not a reason, the books will show that, too.

The fear professed as to the effect on business generally if the city is permitted to examine the books of the milk distributors may be dismissed. The milk distributors are not called upon to protect the rights of business. They have their hands full just now in establishing the truth of their claims that they are dealing fairly with the people. Their objection to showing their books is not reassuring. On the contrary, it raises a doubt in the public mind.

The milk distributors submit to regulations and supervision to which business generally is not subject. Why? Because they deal in a vital necessity. The health of the community, the most precious life of the community, is in their keeping. The city proposes to see that this trust is not betrayed.

This trust may be betrayed in two ways, both equally intolerable. Impure milk is hardly more destructive than a prohibitive price for milk. Death by undernourishment, because the price cannot be paid, is just as fatal as death by poison from impure milk.

The demand that the milk distributors open their books to an accountant designated by the city is voiced by the babies of St. Louis. The City Council says that the law does not empower the city to examine those books, but sooner or later the law will give the city that power.

St. Louis gives its babies precedence over business.

DISEASE AND CRIME

The relation between crime and disease has engaged the earnest and extensive attention of science for a number of years. Criminology, medicine, sociology have all conducted investigations, with at least one practical result—the whole practice of penology has been revolutionized. Penitentiary administration has advanced from barbarities to programs of reconstruction.

Additional light on the subject was furnished by our war experience. The examination of candidates for enlistment showed a high percentage of defectives, technically speaking. A better way to put it, perhaps, would be to say that the percentage free of defects was small.

The experiment Chicago is making, according to Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal Court of that city, who addressed the Board of Religious Organizations here Monday, takes on a practical interest at this time because of the wide prevalence of crime. Chicago is trying to get at the roots of the difficulty. Judge Olson explained in an interview in the Post-Dispatch, by going back to early childhood. His policy has been determined by the fact that 90 percent of the crimes in Chicago are committed by mental defectives. In consequence, school children are being examined. Backward pupils, when found, are given special treatment by being sent to schools where they can get the instruction peculiarly needed.

The prevention of crime is Chicago's ambitious goal. It will claim the good wishes of all citizens. Its realization, of course, is distant. Meantime, the problem of meeting the present aggressive criminality calls for all the vigor and enlightenment society can muster.

ON LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
by Clark McDade

THE SHIPWRECK AND ESCAPE OF AGRIPINA

A SHIRILL, despairing cry broke through the night.

Then all grew still beneath a dimness kissed.

By splendid stars of pearl and emerald. With winged sails we bounded o'er the sea To where that voice had risen in the gloom.

Our smooth-voiced boat tossed up a sparkling spray.

The waves in hollow pathways following: But when we there arrived it was too late. The wounded vessel sank beneath the waves.

Two pressing tides met just above her wake; Then calmer than before the waters ebbed. Weaving those thin and unbonded shapes Which fancy sends with silver from the moon.

Half in a waking dream we scanned the deep; For lack of light and sound impatient grew. Unsatisfied, a cold chill in our limbs. Then lo! Two jeweled arms 'mid ripples rose As if from out the foam of fairyland.

More closely drawn, behold a woman swim. Now in her villa the Augusta rests. More swift we sailed across the silent sea Following straightaway the course of those gemmed arms.

How noble seemed that shadow plunging on! A presence struggling in the lights and darks. And dim environments of varied hue. Still plunges on—we but a length away— But e'er we reached the trailing of her hair She rose and stood erect upon the shore.

She quickly turned in frightened steps from us. Scarce knowing her deliverance had come. Against the cliff in weakness she now leaned An outline delicate, benumbed with cold.

The crescent moon rays fell upon her face And dripping hair thick to the girdle-tie. A loveliness in marble yet withal Her blue eyes bore such sadness in their gaze.

Lo! Her we recognized and named her name: Now in her villa the Augusta rests. Jan. 26, 1921. CHARLES V. H. ROBERTS.

Maybe the thing that hurts some of us as to Mr. Debs is that he should be held responsible for what he did. It was a new thing in the United States to hold our radicals responsible. We never did that prior to the war, and it probably was not in the expectation of Congress that war laws should apply to them as to everyone else.

Mr. Debs had been in the habit of going about talking both in and out of his head. He had got into trouble once or twice, but nothing really serious or in any wise impairing his career as a radical. The same thing was true of a good many others. There was no objection to what they said, and for twenty years it was a diversion upon the part of those tiring of too much convention to go down somewhere and hear one of the radicals talk through his hat. What seems to be felt about Mr. Debs is that Mr. Wilson thought the time for all this had passed. Mr. Debs apparently did not share that opinion. He opposed the war and landed in prison. Mr. Wilson won't grant him amnesty, because as something of a radical himself he feels that Mr. Debs violated the tolerance, which Mr. Wilson considers about the greatest of our institutions. We think it is, too. Some day when Mr. Palmer is back doing whatever he used to do in Pennsylvania, and Mr. Wilson has cooled off and sweetened, we hope to have it back.

ANTHOLOGY OF ANOTHER NEWSPAPER

Tractor Troubles.

Elas Henshot says he intends suing the Toonerville Traction Co. He says they have done him wrong. He says he shipped a four-gallon can of cream to town on one of their new four-wheeled cars, and when the car arrived there were two pounds of butter churned in the can and half of the butter milk had sloshed out.

George Burdord.

In pre-prohibition days George Burdord used to take a few shots of hooch for anything that happened to him. The other day he felt a bad attack of headache coming on and made the remark that he wished that the saloons were running again so he could go down to the Dutchman's and get something to relieve his pains. Sister Menafee, who happened to be in Sam Heckshot's grocery when he made the above remark, asked him if he really thought that whisky ever helped anyone who had pains of any kind. "It sure helped me," said George. "Any way, who would care anything about a few pains if he had a hide full of hooch?"

Our Barber.

Our enterprising barber has installed a new device for cutting hair which he brought back from St. Louis a few days ago. The thing works beautifully. He has a small boy hired who turns a crank and a clipper easily manipulated prunes off a full head of hair in no time. He said the man he brought it from in St. Louis told him that all the best barbers in the city were using them. He said he could make money at two-lits a hair cut. He said he used to shear sheep at the same price—and made money.

An Answer.

We have received a remarkable manuscript entitled: "The Story of the Modest Cat, the Absent-Minded Farmer, the Purloined Lunch, and the Highly Varied Piano." If the writer of this work will please call at this office and help set up a few sticks of type we will be glad to pass his message on to an eagerly awaiting public.

Our correspondent from Wild Cat Ridge has written to ask us if Chinese tael are the ones that grow on the backs of their heads. We never had occasion to examine a Chinaman very closely, but if tael grow on the back of their heads, they are the first animal yet editor ever saw that grew one there. JEFF ROTORBAR.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

POLAND'S HOME PROBLEMS

From the LIVING AGE.

WITH the possible exception of Italy, Poland has some of the most over-populated rural districts of any country in Europe. Former Russian-Poland is estimated to have a million and a half landless peasants. This surplus of labor and the prevalence of little cottage holdings too small to cultivate with improved machinery are largely responsible for the backward state of Polish agriculture. These conditions are engaging the attention of the Polish Diet, which passed an agrarian reform bill last July—not yet, however, put into effect. Its provisions are intended to promote the formation of small farms of from 10 to 100 acres in area. While other manufacturing industries are rapidly developing, two large companies are actually building munitions works in Poland, one of which is intimately connected with the British Vickers. Preparations are being made for opening an explosive factory. The railways lack rolling stock and there is an opening for truck transportation. An American company with a capital of $1,000,000 is preparing to start a motor-truck line between Danzig and Krakow.

NEW APPOINTMENT OF CONGRESS

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

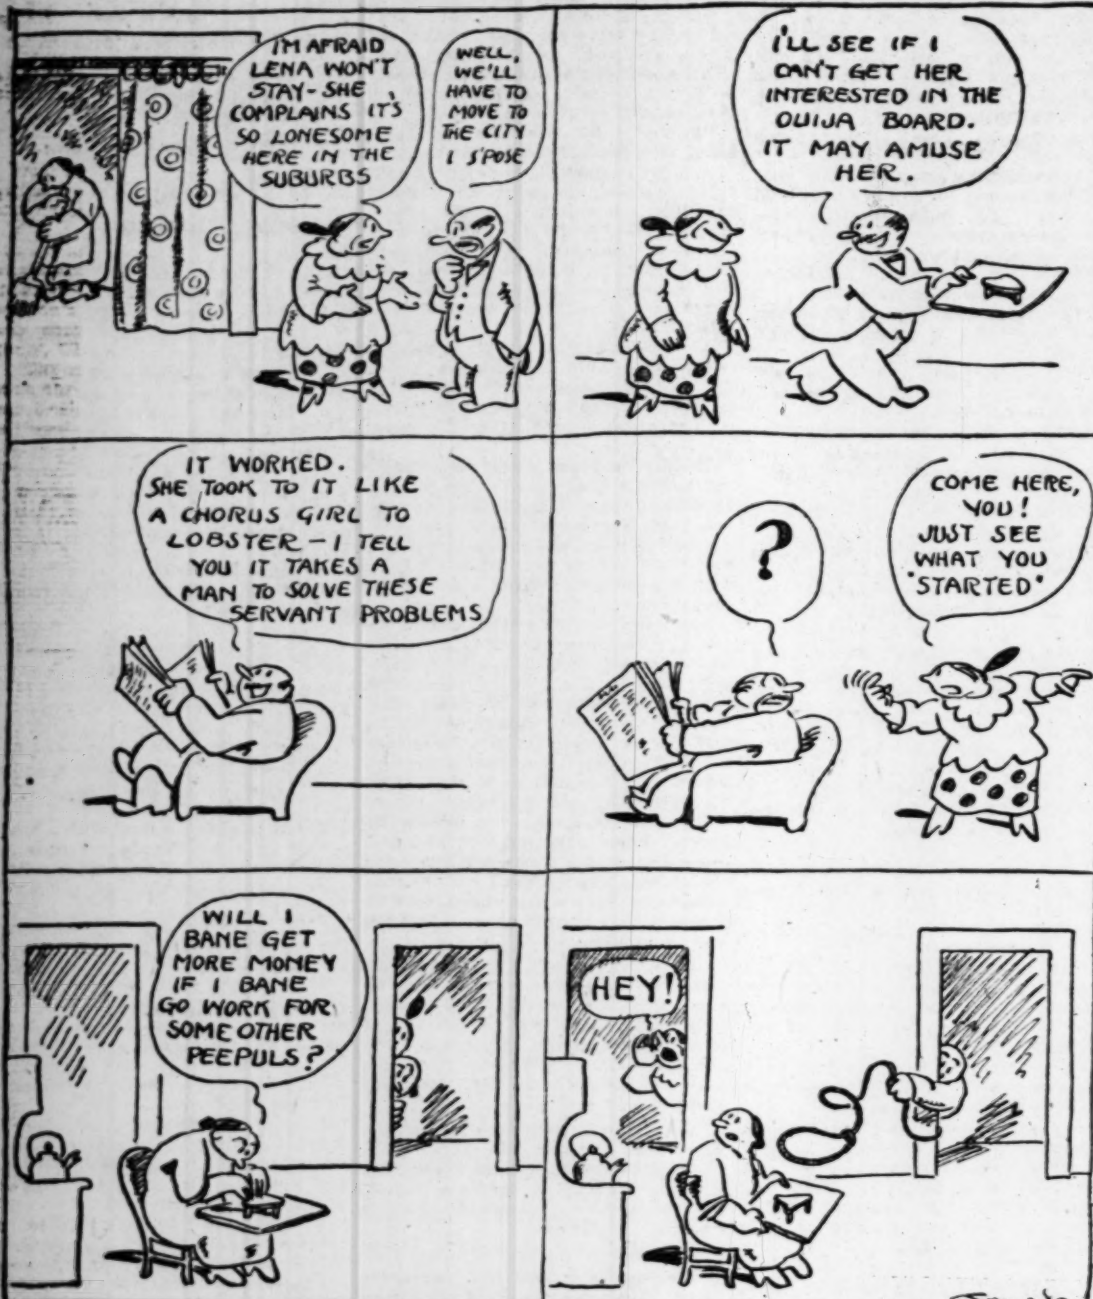

REARLY has a formal report of a House of Representatives committee been so overwhelmingly repudiated as the one recommending an increase in the membership of the House to 433. By 274 to 77 it was voted to retain the present number, 435. And the determination arrived at has the approval of nearly all students of world politics. The House is already too bulky. A reduction would have commanded even warmer approbation. Eleven States will lose something in the apportionment decided on. From Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Vermont and Missouri 12 memberships will be shifted to Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington, which get one more apiece; to Michigan and Ohio, which are allowed two each, and to California, which will have three more men in the House.

LYNCHING AS A FINE ART

From the New York World.

A NEGRO was burned at the stake at Nodess, Ark., by citizens who applied to the task a skill and precision which mark it as at once the most artistic and barbaric lynching of modern times. A party of 25 men in six automobiles traveled through three States for a distance of 100 miles to intercept the prisoner, take him from the custody of two deputies and bring their prey to the place of execution. The time for the ceremony was officially announced in advance, and at 6:30, by torchlight, the victim paid the penalty of his crime with his life. He was chained to a log covered with brushwood up to his shoulders, and all was poured on the flames to hasten the burning. "It was 40 minutes before the last agonized away and the negro's charred body lay still in death." Altogether, as the account says, "a lynching carried out in most methodical fashion—a perfect example of savagery elevated to a fine art. Can they beat it in the jungles of Africa or in Asian wilds? It has remained for the so-called civilized people of a Southern State of the American Union to teach the untutored savages the amenities of human sacrifice. . . . So another negro, a murderer to be sure, goes to his last reward by the quick processes of Judge Lynch's court. Yet his was the least brutal crime committed in the affair. If he deserved it, he burned at the stake, while punishment should be meted out to his butchers."
